Forest Conservation Opportunities Open

Private forest owners in the area have two conservation opportunities for federal cost sharing this year, reports Raymond F. Jaeger, chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Programs are available for both timber production and improvement and for general forestry conservation. These two types are part of the Rural Environmental Conservation Program (RECP) and the reinstated Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP).

USDA's Forest Service and the various state foresters are technical advisors in the joint-agency programs.

The timber production program emphasizes increasing timber supplies and doing management work in the most cost effective way, on a long range basis. It provides 75 percent cost sharing in Maryland for work done and has a maximum acreage limitation of 500 acres.

Funds for the new RECP Forestry Incentive Program, called FIP, are apportioned to designated counties based on timber potential.

The general forestry conservation program includes anti-pollution aspects and is available at 80 percent cost sharing in Maryland for work done. There are general forestry treatments under both the RECP and the REAP available in all counties, including those designated for FIP work, and there are no acreage limitations. Cost share payments are limited to $2,500 per eligible applicant per program.

Firemen's Convention Set June 1 At Bowling Green

The program for the one-day event will include a luncheon at noon; meetings; a joint memorial service and then the convention dinner at the fire hall at 5 p.m. The convention parade is set for 7 p.m.

"Fireman of the year" will be selected and awarded a trophy, sponsored annually by the Independent Insurance Association of Allegany and Garrett counties; and selecion of the 'Fire Lady of the Year' and election of officers will conclude the day.

Commissioners Seeking Medical Planning Grant

The Garrett County Commissioners, along with the Allegany Commissioners, will be submitting a planning grant application for a thorough Emergency Medical Services plan for both western Maryland counties to the Appalachian Regional Commission.

The plan would include such aspects of emergency medical services as communications, patient-flow and emergency medical care services, according to the minutes of the meeting April 29, of the Garrett Commissioners.

The Board met with Robert Diehl, chairman of the Merit System Board, concerning inclusion of three new positions and adoption of the pay schedule for this coming year.

Commissioners Earl Opel and Bernard Guy will be attending the Maryland Association of Counties meeting in Chestertown today and tomorrow to review the County Budget Handbook. Main speaker on Friday will be Wallace Hutton, member of the House of Delegates.

At their next regular meeting Monday, May 6, the commissioners will review the Extension Service budget for 1975 in the morning with James Mellenry, and will hold a budget hearing with Sheriff Jack Browning for the sheriff's department in the afternoon.

Ready Up . . .

The word has gone out to towns all over the area. It's time to "Ready Up." In other words spring is officially here, although temperature-wise one may wonder, and it is time to clean up and spruce up your property, your home, garage and grounds.

These next few weeks will be a good time for all of us to do a bit of sprucing up so the towns will have a presentable appearance. The mayor and council of Oakland have declared May 20 to 21 as clean up week.

The Moorefield Examiner newspaper reported on a Pennsylvania Dutch friend of the publisher, who used to say, "It's time to red up!" He still didn't know whether the word was spelled "redd" or "Redd" or "Red," but he did know it meant to straighten everything up.

So the suggestion should be all that any citizen should need to get busy and clean up the clutter.

One Found Guilty, One Pleads Guilty On Drug Charges

Two were guilty on drug charges, according to the docket in District Court for the week ending May 7. Judge Lewis R. Jones found one guilty and the other pleaded guilty.

Wayne Jamison, RD 3, Deer Park, pleaded not guilty of possession of marijuana in Oakland November 1. He was found guilty by Judge Jones who ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

The substance found in possession of Jamison was positively identified as marijuana by the Identification Laboratory of the Maryland State Police, records showed.

Larry Dale Goff, RD 2, Swanton, pleaded guilty of possession of marijuana on the Savage River road April 1. Judge Jones ordered a pre-sentence investigation in this case also.

Neither is being held in jail.

A charge of disorderly conduct against Donald L. Stewart, RD 1, Oakland, was dismissed as the parties involved were back together.

Jack Walls, Cambridge, is president of the association, and will preside. The program on Thursday and Friday, May 23 and 24, will include discussion on legislation pertaining to assessment changes as a result of the 1974 General Assembly. Wayne Hamilton, chairman of the County Commissioners, is scheduled for a welcome address on Thursday morning. Tours and a golf tournament are being arranged for those arriving in the area on Wednesday, May 22.

Principal speaker will be I. W. Abel, International president of the United Steelworkers of America, who is a property owner on Deep Creek Lake.

All counties in the state will be represented at the conference.

Bull Hit By Rig On Backbone Thur.

A Hereford bull was hit by a rig on Backbone Mountain on Md. Route 135 and badly injured last Thursday night during a heavy fog.

The bull, belonging to Ritchie H. Sharpless, of the Mt. Zion area along with some other animals, had gotten loose and wandered through the fog. The one was hit by a rig driven by Jerry C. Fike, Friendsville going east on Route 135 about .3 mile east of Walnut Bottom road just before 10 p.m.

Fike was unable to see the animal in the eastbound lane due to heavy fog.

The animal, according to Mrs. Sharpless, had broken bones and was partially paralyzed but they were fortunate to have it slaughtered promptly, so that it was not a complete loss.

Due to conditions, Tfc. G. D. Broadwater, who investigated, made no charges.

TESTING HIS STRENGTH, happy hunter Elbert Hershman lifts his huge, 22-pound reward for turkey hunting every morning since the season began April 29. This gobbler is the largest turkey Mr. Hershman has ever killed, beating by far the 16-pound bird he got during the season last fall. He shot this tom May 2 just after daylight in the Wallman section, near Laurel Run, where he had caught a large rattlesnake just two days previously. Mr. Hershman had gone hunting very early and was sitting on a pile of rocks waiting for sunrise when he heard a warning rattle. When he looked to his right, he saw a rattler, then when he looked left, he saw another rattlesnake, and lost no time in moving from atop the den where he had inadvertently seated himself. Mr. Hershman is a lifelong area resident who still enjoys hunting and the outdoor life in his retirement. He is also active in conservation work.

Learning Weather Maxims Can Help Home Gardeners

You can make home gardening more fun—and perhaps even more profitable—by developing some practical guidelines for planting dates which combine long-time weather data with moonwatching and phenology, according to horticulture specialists at the University of Maryland.

Moonwatching is a modern term for keeping track of space satellites, or it can be applied to persons who retain a belief in the old farmer's practice of planting according to phases of the moon, comments Dr. Francis C. Stark, horticulture department chairman at the College Park campus.

And phenology is a "two-bit" word that might be called the old farmer's version of astrology," Dr. Stark noted in recent conversation. But rather than dealing with the celestial mythology of stars and their purported influence on human events, phenology is an earthly branch of science dealing with relationships between climate and regularly occurring events in the world of plant and animal life, the Maryland horticulture chairman explained.

An example of using phenology as an aid to gardeners concerns the proper date to plant or transplant warm season vegetable crops such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, sweet corn, lima beans and the vine crops like squash or cucumbers.

Long-time weather data indicates that you can set out warm season plants anytime after May 10 in the College Park-Washington, D. C. area with reliable assurance they won't be damaged by frost. The frost-free date for mountain regions of Western Maryland would be the latter part of May. "The danger of frost is past when white oak leaves reach the size of a squirrel's ear."

Lunar tables, which can be found in a Farmer's Almanac, show that a full moon occurred Monday, May 6. Old-time moonwatchers are familiar with the adage frost can occur in spring and fall anytime the moon enters a new phase.

Gardeners in western Maryland may well want to wait with their tomato transplanting until after May 21, when the new moon will have occurred, to find themselves in phase with the climatologists.

Workers Urged To Obtain Social Security Numbers

Some employers won't hire people unless they have a social security number, so students and others planning to get summer jobs should apply for a number now if they don't already have one, according to James E. Robertson, Social Security District Manager in Cumberland.

"Delaying your application might prevent your employment or cause you to lose time and wages in a job requiring a social security number," Mr. Robertson said. "When you don't recall having had a social security number before, your application is screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure a second number isn't issued to you—and screening takes time.

"You should apply for your social security number at least several weeks before you need it for a job."

A worker builds disability, survivors, retirement and Medicare protection by work and earnings credited to his social security number. He gets credit if he's paid $50 or more in a 3-month calendar quarter in work covered by social security.

Do you miss out on all the big sales . . . just because you haven't the ready cash in your checking account?

You Need Ready Reserve!

Ready Reserve is a line of credit extended to checking account customers who would like to have an additional supply of cash. In some cases, that line of credit can be as high as $5,000 depending on the amount you wish to have, and the amount you qualify for.

All you have to do is tell us how much of your reserve you would like to use . . . and then write a check. For example, suppose your line of credit is $1,000 and you want to buy an appliance that costs $400 — but you only have $100 in your checking account. To buy that appliance without altering the balance in your checking account, you simply mail or bring into GNB a deposit order and ticket that tells us to transfer $400 of your reserve into your checking account. Then you can write a check for the cost of the appliance. The money you use becomes a low-cost loan repayable in convenient monthly payments. Your reserve is reduced to $600 . . . and the balance in your checking account remains $100. It's that easy.

The money you borrow from your reserve can be used for whatever you wish to use it for . . . appliances, home improvements, vacations, extra cash. In fact, the bank never has to know how you spend the money.

Revising History

A detailed study is now out revealing how a number of leading American historians have systematically and shockingly revised recent history to suit their own ultra-leftist views. The study is contained in a newly-published book, "The New Left And The Origins Of The Cold War," by Robert James Maddox, Professor of History at the Pennsylvania State University, and published by Princeton University Press.

Prof. Maddox has carefully examined the principal works of seven major U. S. historians and found glaring examples of inaccuracy, distortion and bias. "I found not only various interpretations which, of course, are legitimate," says Maddox, "but a fairly pervasive misusage of the historical documents as they exist. This consists of such things as altering sentences by the use of hiatuses, taking sentences out of context in terms of time or subject and placing them in other contexts in such a way as to give misleading interpretations of what policy makers actually said and did back at the time when the Cold War began."

As an example, Prof. Maddox cites one of the historians in question, Gora Alperovitz, who wanted to show that then President Harry Truman sought to delay the Postdam Conference in order to complete work on the atomic bomb. "Truman supposedly wrote a letter in which he said that he didn't want to go,' says Maddox, " but a number of words are dropped out as suoted by Alpernvitz. When the missing words are supplied, it turns out to be a letter that Truman wrote to his sister and mother telling that the reason he didn't want to go was because he'd have to take his top hat, his tails, and his tuxedo. In other words, he was simply complaining about the formalities he would have to endure, not tests on the atomic bomb."

Prof. Maddox says his study was prompted by the feeling that American students of history are not always getting the facts fairly and objectively. "My complaint," says Maddox, "is not that no one should try to criticize American foreign policy, but when they do, they ought to base it upon the facts as they exist and not the facts as they are created." — U. S. Press Association.

Senate Gives Okay To No-Fault Bill

A bill directing the states to reform their automobile insurance systems to guarantee compensation for all accident victims, has won Senate approval in Washington. The vote sent the no-fault bill to the House where the Commerce committee has yet to start work on the question.

Under the no-fault concept an accident victim is assured that his medical and rehabilitation expenses and loss of wages will be paid to his own insurance company regardless of who caused the accident.

The bill would require every car owner to buy insurance protecting himself and his family against such losses.

Sponsors of the bill claim that when implemented the new system could reduce the nation's annual $8 billion liability premium bill by something less than one-third.

They also claim the bill would secure quick compensation to accident victims without the time consuming ordeal of a court fight.

Opposition to the bill was based mostly on constitutional objections, it being claimed that Congress has no constitutional authority to direct the states to adopt a minimum no-fault plan by September 1, 1975.

New Pipeline System For Deep Mining Developed

Consolidation Coal Co., said in Pittsburgh last week it had successfully tested a new pipeline system for removing coal from Deep mines which could revolutionize the industry and increase production substantially.

The new process reduces the equipment in deep mines, thus speeding up production and making the shafts safer.

Company officials said it would take several years before the system was fully developed for widespread use.

Under the process coal is crushed into bits no larger than four inches and mixed with water at the working face. The sludge is then forced to the surface through rubber and steel pipes where it is separated and the water recycled.

Something to Think About

When you are sick, do you take your body to anyone other than a doctor? No.

When you need legal advice, do you go to anyone other than a lawyer? No.

This could go on and on, so doesn't it make good sense that when you need lawn and garden equipment or anything which is operated by a small engine, you should first consult a professional person in that field?

We at BOWMAN'S EQUIPMENT CO. are the experts in Garrett County. (You might say we are doctors of small engines and outdoor power equipment). This is our only business and is not a hobby or a sideline with some other type of business, so doesn't it stand to reason that we will be more willing to serve you and your equipment in future years?

To us service is our most important product and we service what we sell first.

We thank you for taking the time to read this and if you want to know more about our company and the products we sell and service, please feel free to call on us. We are located on Gravelly Run Road off Route 219 one mile south of McHenry. We are open daily 8:00 to 5:30, on Saturday from 8:00 to noon, and are closed all day Sunday. Our phone number is 387-5540.

Again we say thank you.

Commissioners In Budget Talks With Sheriff's Dept.

In continuing budget deliberations the County Commissioners met Monday with Sheriff John Browning for some three and one-half hours, considering the sheriff's department and jail budgets.

The commissioners budgeted the sheriff department salaries on the recommendation of the merit system board. A number of the items which appear in the sheriff's budget are figures set by state legislature. They also budgeted for the purchase of six police cars for that department in an effort to cut mileage costs. Total budget for the jail is $21,215, down some $12,080 from the $36,595 requested by the sheriff, it was pointed out.

Total budget for the sheriff's department for fiscal 1975 will be $118,050, down $71,887 from the sheriff's request of $193,937.

Commissioners Earl Opel and Bernard Guy attended a two-day session last week in Kent County to discuss various aspects of budgeting with representatives of other Maryland counties.

Chairman Wayne Hamilton was in Annapolis yesterday to talk to representatives at the Department of Natural Resources about the Youghiogheny River in Friendsville, and also to attend the board meeting of the Maryland Association of Counties.

The commissioners will meet with the Planning Commission tomorrow to discuss the comprehensive plan after three public hearings. In addition they will spend tomorrow morning in budget sessions.

The Maryland County Engineers' Association will meet in Hagerstown tomorrow. Paul DeWitt, county roads engineer, is vice president of the Maryland Association.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Lester Welch, born May 5, 1897.
This year you would have
Been 77, but two years ago
God took you away, and
It's so very hard to say,
"Thy Will Be Done," but still
We know when you had to Leave us, It was according To God's will.
He knows how much I
Miss you, and sees the tears
I shed, and whispers: He's Only asleep, He isn't really Dead.

Love — Your Daughter,
Judy

Southern Rams Trim Petersburg

Petersburg's diamond defense disintegrated in a wild pitch, a passed ball and two errors in the bottom of the sixth inning, to give Southern Rams three runs and a 5 to 4 victory yesterday at Oakland.

The victory didn't even include one hit produced by the winning Rams in the decisive sixth inning.

Petersburg opened with a 1-0 lead but couldn't hold the lead Southern came up with two runs off a walk, a duo of singles and a double in the bottom of the third inning. Petersburg regained the lead in the fourth by tallying three runs. The 4-2 margin favoring the Vikings stood until the sixth inning. Brady's mound victory eased the Rams into a winning season at 3-2. Tom Harmon took the loss for Petersburg.

Legacies

On Mother's Day my thoughts naturally gravitate to the mothers of my parents. Both of my grandmothers were hard-working, honest sweet ladies. That is not to say that they hid their opinions behind smiles or skirts, or that they were complacent about what was wrong or needed changing. Never once did I ever see either of them wield anything like a rolling pin. They didn't need to, for everyone knew where each stood, even when one renounced the title of grandmother and insisted that we address her by her name.

Each lady was reared in Garrett County and settled near her home after marriage. Neither was famous or made herself a gilded lily. They both possessed the sturdiness of Appalachian women. One handled not only house and family, including her father-in-law, but daily farm chores and a garden with such exquisite products as celery and kohlrabi. The other reared four children from her young widowhood and still held forth in the depression by buying me a necessary pair of shoes with not money, but a bushel of her potatoes. Those shoes stand on my library shelves with a radiance of 20 red leatherbound volumes.

Some years ago, one of these ladies lifted from her cupboard a blue-white pitcher, her own wedding gift, asking me to take it "because you will take care of it." And then I was also bequeathed her child's cup with double handles, given to her at the age of four. Years later, after learning about porcelain, I found its signature—Limoges

On the washstand of the spare bedroom (all farmhouses had them) of my other grandmother stood a spotless white scrolled pitcher and bowl set which she had received when my grandfather pressed his suit. Everyone had so admired this dainty grouping, with its golden edges—not only pitcher and bowl, but soapdish, drinking cup, and smaller pitcher. It stood there for long years, guarded and appreciated, for it should be mine, she said, and everyone knew. It now adorns my buffet.

Shortly after her death, I was presented with a modest purse containing eight two-dollar bills, saved with sacrifice by a woman who had used her mind, with back-breaking labor, enough to live under her own roof and maintain it for 45 years. Many times I have wondered if her descendants, with greater help and education, could have equalled that task as well.

That these gifts would become things of great monetary value never occurred to these ladies. They valued the good materials, cherishing instead the worth of their bequests to me in the light of transmitting them to another time and life.

Most grandmothers are really grand mothers, and they go far beyond that in unselfishness. Mine certainly did so.

Buffalo Remains Top Coal Producer

Buffalo Coal company remains number one producer of coal in Maryland, according to late figures issued by the Maryland Bureau of Mines, but how long the Garrett County firm retains that distinction is a matter of speculation.

A recent announcement that Anchor Coal Company would open a deep mine in this county gives the Tulsa, Okla. Corporation the potential to become not only the largest coal producer in the state but also the potential to rival the "pick and shovel" tonnage produced by the mammoth Consolidated Coal Company.

Preliminary reports to the Bureau of Mines said Anchor was planning to do quite a business in Maryland, according to Harry Buckley, director.

Buffalo extracted 324,521 tons of coal last year almost exclusively by strip and augering methods. Though Buffalo has been the largest producer of coal in the area since the late 1960s, it is apparent that Anchor's mine, between Bittinger and Grantsville, is designed for the greater production over a period of time.

According to Frank Yonai, agent for the company at Garrett, Pa., Anchor plans to open the mine in the Casselman River coal basin sometime this year. Eventually the company hopes to employ upwards of 300 miners. That employment figure compares with the employment offered by the entire strip mine industry in Western Maryland. The company hopes to hire as many local people as possible but training will be needed.

The coal field in which Anchor plans to tap contains upwards of 250 million tons of coal according to federal government statistics, but Anchor figures it can recover of 100 million tons or more.

Mr. Yonai indicated they would tap the Upper Freeport seam of coal on the east slope of Negro Mountain in the Grantsville-Jennings area, and that next year a shaft would be lowered to the Lower Bakerstown and Kitanning seams. The coal, he said, outcrops on both flanks of both Negro and Meadow Mountains and lies in a "canoe like basin" up to 500 feet below the Casselman River. The seams vary between three and six feet in thickness.

Only one sizeable deep mine is operating at present and that is by Franklin Police, on a Buffalo operation near Deer Park. Last year the mine produced 57,880 tons.

IS YOUR HOME A "HALFWAY HOUSE"?

If your house was built in 1964, it would probably cost 50% more to build the same house today. So it's important for you to watch property values carefully to make sure your insurance stays current with these increasing costs.

We can help you find out if you own a "Halfway House". We'll give you a copy of the Dwelling Approximator, a simple folder that will help you determine the approximate replacement value of your home. Then, we'll review your present home insurance with you to help you determine whether it gives you adequate protection.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Thank you for the coverage of Southern's 1974 "It's Academic" quiz team.

We feel Southern is not a loser but a winner! In the first competition we were victorious over Towson Catholic and Eastern High. On the second teletaping we beat Wilhamsport, who had beaten two other teams, and Western, who had also beaten two other teams. Last week, even though we lost to Pikesville by a small margin, we won over Dulaney High who had beaten six other teams and who incidentally outscored us last year by only one question.

The P.T.A. with backing from the Elks Club helped with the expenses incurred in making the trips to Baltimore. We are thankful for their support.

It would be desirable if Garrett County could receive television from the Baltimore channels—not only for seeing our students in action in the "It's Academic" Quiz Show on May 28, June 4, and June 11, but to keep us better informed concerning statewide events. As you know, the T.V. news we receive locally is about West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The team and I hope that enough interest has been created through our efforts that in future years more people will know of the many good things which occur at Southern.

Very sincerely,
Jean Grose
"It's Academic" Advisor

To Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Chad Wilhelm, Aurora, W. Va., will celebrate their Golden wedding Anniversary at a reception given them by their children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm were united in marriage in Kingwood, W. Va., on May 12, 1924 with the Rev. John H. Howard officiating. They are the parents of four children: William Wilhelm, Aberdeen; Mrs. Keith (Meredith) Bolyard, Lima, Ohio; Kenneth Wilhelm, Columbus, Ohio; and Mrs. Keith (Beatrice) Winters, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va. They have eight grandchildren, three step grandchildren and one great grandson.

The event will be held in the Memorial Building at the Aurora United Methodist Church, where the couple are members, on Sunday, May 12 from 2:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon. The custom of open house will be observed. The couple has requested that gifts be omitted.

Lakers, Cecil Split Doubleheader

Winning the opener 6 to 5 and then suffering a six run single extra inning in the second game to lose 15 to 9 the Garrett Community College Lakers split a doubleheader with visiting Cecil Community college Sunday afternoon at McHenry.

Garrett led 5-4 going into the top of the final seventh inning in the opener but pitcher Ernie Shotwell gave up a home run to Cecil CC shortstop Bill Struble on his first pitch in the inning.

With the score tied 5-5 the Lakers loaded the bases and right fielder Charlie Shahan came home to score the winning run on a passed ball.

In the nightcap Garrett got two runs in the bottom of the 7th to tie the game at 9-9 and send the contest into extra innings.

Cecil CC had six hits in the eighth inning and moved to the final 15-9 verdict. Garrett relief pitcher Dan Shitka took the loss. He had entered the game in the fourth inning in relief of Paul Lewis.

Prior to the loss Garrett had been riding a five game win streak as they captured seven wins in their last eight starts.

The Lakers will play a doubleheader against Montgomery Takoma Park at McHenry on Saturday, to wind up their season.

Takes Retirement From Kelly Plant

Lambert L. Thrasher, Deer Park, recently took early retirement from Kelly Springfield Tire company of Cumberland, after nearly thirty-eight years of company service. He was first employed at Kelly plant July 13, 1935 and served the entire time in the Power Division.

Mr. Thrasher is a member of UBWA local 7 the Woodmen of the World, the Deer Park Volunteer fire company, Vacation Land C. B. Radio club, and the Deer Park United Methodist church.

He is married to the former Pleasant Ross. He and his wife reside on a small farm east of Deer Park. They have three sons, Gerald, Ray[illegible], with the Celanese Corporation of America; William, Alexandria, Va., with the U. S. Mr. Thrasher was presented with a gift from his fellow employes upon retiring.

Locusts Due In Area During May

The locusts are due in the area during May. Scientists say the periodical cicada, otherwise known as the 17-year locusts are due to crawl from the Western Maryland soil sometime this month.

Thanks to the predictable reappearance of the insects, orchard owners in the Washington county area which is expected to be the center of this year's infestation, are prepared with insecticides to battle the brood.

Chemicals will be aimed primarily at fecicades which cut slits in tree bark to deposit eggs. The cicada inhabits most of the United States east of the Mississippi. For 16 years the insects grow beneath the earth, attached to roots of trees sucking sap and working their way toward the surface.

As the weather warms in their 17th spring, the bugs swarm from the ground. As many as 40,000 can emerge from the base of a single tree, entymologists say.

For a few summer weeks the woods are full of the sound of the adult cicadas, thrumming their membraneous wings in mating song before dying.

Then the young hatch, drop to the ground, burrow in and begin another 17-year cycle.

Although a particular region will be invaded by the cicada only once every 17 years there's a brood popping from the soil somewhere nearly every year. The Baltimore area last heard the locusts in 1970. This was known as brood 19, which is the largest known. The group which is scheduled to pop up in Western Maryland, West Virginia and parts of Pennsylvania, is brood 14, scientists say.

Ocean Shores, Wash., recently celebrated "Undiscovery Day," early British explorers missed finding it.

Honored On Fiftieth Anniversary Of Co-Eds

Mrs. John M. Robey, Sr. will be honored by the University of Maryland at its upcoming graduation on Sunday, May 12.

Mrs. Robey is the former Eleanor Glotfelty, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Glotfelty, Sr., residents of near Oakland for many years.

She is being honored because of the coincidence that while Mrs. Robey was graduated in 1924 when only a half hundred women were enrolled at the University, her eldest granddaughter, Marcia Flemister, is a member of this 1974 graduation class, thus making a noteworthy 50th anniversary for co-eds.

Miss Flemister is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Flemister of Silver Spring.

Does GOD see the gap?

Whenever you hear about a generation gap, you can be sure you're getting a human, biased point of view. Each generation is sure!

Yet there is a divine view. It concentrates on the oneness of all generations . . . on all the blessings and opportunities that God continues to bestow. "His truth endureth to all generations," said the Psalmist.

When Great Grandma holds little Linda in her arms next Sunday, She'll be thinking gratefully of all the gifts they have in common—from the Lord. And she'll be praying that Linda will be brought up to cherish those gifts.

The generation gap—like all differences — disappears when human intelligence grasps God's point of view.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

VESTED INTERESTS

Lesson for May 12, 1974

Background Scripture: Acts 18 through 19.
Devotional Reading: 2 Corinthians 10:3-8.

The Chamber of Commerce of Ephesus swung into action. In an attempt to alert the people of that city to the growing movement known as Christianity, a flyer was distributed to the general public. This is what it said:

Rev. Althouse

Citizens of Greater Ephesus!

Wake up! Wake up!

A little band of subversive atheists is plotting the downfall of our glorious religion of Artemis. Called "Christians" and led by a man of Tarsus named Paul (alias Saul), this group has already undermined the faith throughout much of the province of Asia. They have blasphemed Artemis and our idols, saying, "God's made with hands are not gods." They attack, not only our religion, but also our city of Ephesus, home of the temple of Artemis and one of the seven wonders of the world. Our city is known as the center for the manufacture of the Artemis statues. What will happen to our religion throughout the world if it is learned that the people of her own city are forsaking her? Who will want to come and see our magnificent temple if this subversive group is allowed to continue? Let us crush this movement now. It is the religious and patriotic duty of every citizen of Ephesus to join in the struggle to defend all that we hold dear.

In the public interest,
Your Chamber of Commerce

A second communication was sent to all the businessmen of Ephesus. Added to what was said in the public notice was news of the alarming drop-off in sales by silversmiths and a warning that this constituted a threat to all merchants. "The banks, the hotels, the market, winerys, sacred prostitutes—all will suffer! Merchants, join us in stamping out this menace to our livelihood!"

Bad for business

Of course, no such communications were ever distributed in Ephesus because there were no Chambers of Commerce in those days. Still, we can be sure that the merchants of Ephesus reacted in a way not unlike that noted above. Christianity was bad for business when that business was based upon human exploitation.

The clash, of course, need not have been inevitable. The merchants of Ephesus were little concerned about Paul's theology—until he announced that Christ makes all idols worthless. If Paul had just kept quiet about the silver statues, he probably could have continued in his work undisturbed.

This is no less true in our own day. Christianity is still constantly in conflict with the vested interests of many communities. It does not seek to offend, but it cannot help but offend at times because the values of the gospel are radically different.

Is Christianity "bad for business" with the vested interests of your town?

℞ HI MOM!
WE LOVE YOU!
We couldn't let Mothers Day go by without adding our salute to Mothers. We see mothers every day in our pharmacy. We see them when they are worried and bringing in prescriptions for a sick child. We see them hiding their worries and trying to comfort and reassure their little ones. We see new Mothers shopping for needed items for that tiny baby they so proudly carry. And we see thoughtful Mothers deciding on many important drug items.
Because we are so closely involved with serving these Mothers we can appreciate the many roles they must play. At this time we would like to say a special thank you to the Mothers who have chosen us to help them.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Victor M. Ervin, Sr., who passed away one year ago April 24, 1973, from your son, Steve Ervin and Margie.

It's only been a year, Dad,
But gee, it seems so long.
I still play our music, Dad
And I still sing our songs.
Somehow they all sound different now
I guess 'cause you're not here.
It seems you should sing with me,
It's only been a year. . . . .
I guess I had you long enough
To raise me to a man,
And now for you and only you
I do the best I can.
We had our good and bad times
But still we felt the same,
The best you ever did for me
Was let me wear your name.
And so with pride I'll always say
"Pete Ervin was my dad"
You were a prize for anyone,
The best a boy could have.
I'd run to meet you down the lane,
Sometimes without a toy
That really didn't matter, Dad,
I know I was your boy.
And oh, how proud I was of you.
You'd get the guitar down
And sing a song about your kids
Before you went to town.
You kept our home together
Just being what you were,
It hasn't been the same Dad,
Now that you're not here.
I can't go home since you're not there.
The feeling's not the same,
Nothing's like it was before,
Yes, everything has changed,
See Dad, I can't forget you.
One year or fifty more,
I know that anywhere you are You're spreading 'round some joy.
Yes Dad, I should be with you
The way we always were,
But this time I'd be closer by,
In case you called my name.
I guess I'm being selfish
To think that should be true,
You have to understand Dad,
It's only been a year' ! !

—Adv. 10-11.*

Vote "No" on the Drinking Bill

There is a bill on the Governor's desk lowering the drinking age to eighteen (18). It seems to me that our elected officials are more interested in money rather than the moral issue involved. The money that any county will receive will be offset by the rise in crime and the loss of human life. I strongly oppose the drinking bill. May God have mercy on our elected officials and citizens who supported this bill for whatever reason. The blood of innocent people will be upon their hands. You can not compromise with the devil and hope to run a good county or state government. If it takes blood money to run any government then it is time we looked for a better system. When elected officials lose a sense of moral obligation to the citizens then it is time for a change in government. I am forwarding a copy of this to Governor Mandel. I would ask that the citizens of Garrett County to do likewise in writing a letter of their disapproval for the lowering of the drinking age to eighteen (18).

AMERICAN FREEDOM
CHRISTIAN RESPONSIBILITY
AS I UNDERSTAND IT.
By
Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

In this week's column, I am printing a copy of a letter from the State's Attorney plus a copy of my yearly renewal certificate with the Assemblies of God. Why? Because some coward (or cowards) has asked for me to be investigated. Mr. Thayer would not tell me who, he did say it was local and he referred to the party as THEY and THEM. Since I have pastored the Deer Park Assembly almost seven years and every Sunday give out 40 of our denomination's weekly magazine with our Headquarters' address plus my name and address, besides the fact that there are eleven of our churches in Garrett County and any of these pastors would have been glad to tell anyone calling them about my status in the Assemblies of God; I, therefore, contend that it was not my status as a minister they were interested in but rather a smear tactic to discredit my name and influence. This is an old trick of the communists; if you can't answer a man's questions and charges, then the only thing left to make him non-effective is to start a gossip-smear campaign.

So let the public be aware that we have these type of people among us. They wanted this done in secret; but I have nothing to hide. Remember what Jesus said in John 3:18-21, "There is no eternal doom awaiting those who trust him to save them. But those who don't trust him have already been tried and condemned for not believing in the only Son of God. Their sentence is based on this fact: that the Light from heaven came into the world, but they loved the darkness more than the Light, for their deeds were evil. They hated the heavenly Light because they wanted to sin in the darkness. They stayed away from the Light for fear their sins would be exposed and they would be punished. But those doing right come gladly to the Light to let everyone see that they are doing what God wants them to."

The Reverend Mr. W. H. Leake
Deer Park
Maryland 21550

Dear Mr. Leake:

I have received an official inquiry concerning your ordination status as a minister of the gospel and your affiliation with the Assemblies of God Church.

I do not have any reason to question your status within your own church, but since the question of your ordination and affiliation bears directly on the validity of marriages performed by you, the inquiry becomes pertinent under the provisions of Section 3A of Article 62 of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

Documentation of your ordination and affiliation with the Assemblies of God Church will certainly suffice to answer the question which has been raised.

Please call at my office at your earliest convenience to discuss this matter.

Very truly yours,
Fred A. Thayer

— OPEN WEEKENDS —

OPEN LINE

Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as a public service to keep in touch with all aspects of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for publishing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks:

Did the Public Safety officers bill pass Congress yet?

Yes. Last week the House passed legislation providing a $50,000 federal payment to the surviving dependents of non-federal public safety officers--policemen, firemen, correctional officers, prison and probation officers--who died from injury sustained in the performance of their work.

By what authority can the government regulate fuel and fuel additives?

Under the Clear Air Act of 1970 the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) was given the authority to regulate fuel and fuel additives which endanger public health, or which interfere with the performance of anti-pollution devices.

What percent of the world's energy does the U. S. consume?

The United States is the most energy intensive nation in the world, accounting for over one-third of the world's energy consumption.

I understand increases in Social Security benefits will soon be automatic. How does this work?

The first possible automatic increase in Social Security benefits will be effective for June, 1975, under legislation enacted last December. It will be based on the increase in the cost-of-living from the second quarter of 1973 through the first quarter of 1975. Automatic increases in subsequent years will also be effective for the month of June and generally will be based on changes in the cost-of-living from first quarter to first quarter.

My husband and I are to apply for supplemental security income benefits this week. Can you tell me if it's possible to receive about $60 right away as we desperately need to pay off some bills?

According to the Social Security Administration energy advance payments can be made to persons who are "obviously eligible" for monthly federal SSI benefits. SSI beneficiaries are persons age 65 and over, or blind or disabled. The advance payment can be up to $100 for one person and $195 for a couple. Advance payments can be made to persons who do not have funds to meet an emergency that threatens their health or safety and can't wait until their regular supplemental security income payments can be processed.

What becomes of a bill after it is signed by the President?

The signed bill is sent to the General Services Administraton where it is assigned a public law number and published in individual form.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias

Backing the Bill of Rights

We have arrived at a critical turning point in American history. The revelations of Watergate have included, to our sorrow as well as our enlightenment, evidence that suggests covert attacks upon constitutional government were being attempted.

How the Congress, the courts and the people act in the coming months will determine, in large measure, whether the United States will return to an open, truly democratic government, or whether it will make its major decisions outside prescribed constitutional processes.

It is evident from the various Watergate investigations that protections of individual rights under the Fourth Amendment were repeatedly violated. It also is evident that it is the duty of Congress to establish through statute what is meant by "unreasonable searches and seizures," which the Fourth Amendment was written to prohibit.

In my view, the protections of the Fourth Amendment should not be limited by any arbitrary action on the part of any of the three branches of government.

That is the principle of The Bill of Rights Procedures Act of 1974, which I have introduced in the Senate. It is a measure that seeks to strengthen Fourth Amendment guarantees of privacy by providing firm statutory guidelines for "reasonable searches and seizures."

It prohibits electronic surveillance, building entries, mail openings, inspection of business or private records and other invasions of the privacy of any individual by the government without a court order.

The court order can be issued only upon probable cause that a crime has been or is about to be committed, supported by oath or affirmation. The place to be searched and the person or thing to be seized must be described in particular.

Finally, the bill provides that the disposition of all action taken under a court order shall be available, under appropriate conditions of confidentiality to protect the privacy of any individuals involved, to the administrative office of the federal courts and to the appropriate committees of Congress.

I know that this bill will receive thorough consideration by the Senate and the House. If enacted, it would do much to strengthen the freedom guaranteed by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

SENSING THE NEWS

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Southern States Industrial Council

The Union View of OSHA

When the Occupational Safety and Health Act became law in 1970, the vast majority of Americans had no idea of its potential impact on business and agriculture. Since that time, OSHA has become an instrument for harassing business establishments of every size. The burdens and pressures have been especially great for small businesses, and efforts to reform the law have been launched by Sens. Curtis of Nebraska and Dominick of Colorado.

Aside from the unreasonableness of many OSHA requirements, there is the matter of union attitudes toward this legislation. The public is yet to fully understand that the unions regard such legislation as an instrument for transforming American society and limiting the authority of the owners of a business, forcing them to share authority with employes.

The union attitude comes across loud and clear in an article entitled "OSHA In The System Of Social Transaction" by Sheldon W. Samuels, director of health, safety and environmental affairs, Industrial Union Dept., AFL-CIO.

As Mr. Samuels sees it, OSHA isn't simply a health and safety measure. Instead, he describes it as "a social transaction. Specifically, the Act is another decision-making track within the social structure of the workplace." He is an advocate of what he calls participatory rights' and makes crystal clear that he values OSHA because it leads to "direct involvement in decision making" by workers in a plant or business establishment. He hails what he refers to as a "new set of participatory rights," though these so-called rights are nowhere spelled out in the American constitutional or legal system.

Mr. Samuels' discussion of OSHA indicates that it is a mistake to think of unions being solely interested in bread and butter issues. Many unionists are deeply committed to a radical restructuring of American society. They are imbued with a profound hostility towards free economic institutions.

In Mr. Samuels' case, this attitude is evidenced by his choice of language. He refers to "subversion for profit" and charges that the problems of small businessmen are "criminally exaggerated." His article in the Journal of the American Society of Safety Engineers angrily denounces those who don't agree with him, saying professional organizations "must stone the profession's prostitutes, label the ignoramuses, and censure unproductive attitudes." He has no patience with the Labor Dept. when it pays attention to state laws, dismissing what he calls "the phantom called 'states rights'." He refuses to believe there is legitimate concern about OSHA, rejecting this concern as "hysteria" and alleging that "phony complaints" poured into congressional offices. Because business nowadays gets a better hearing in Washington, Mr. Samuels says, "The Civil Service has been raped!"

Perhaps the most astonishing of Mr. Samuels' comments is his statement that "the employer has no incentive to provide a safe work environment or to remove job hazards." On the contrary, of course, the employer has every practical incentive to promote safety. A safe plant is an efficient plant. It is a plant free of work stoppages due to accidents. But much more than that is involved. The vast majority of employers are concerned about their employes as people.

It is a cruel, Marxist caricature of the employer to think or speak of him as a heartless individual concerned only with lab or units. Countless companies in the United States show a personal concern for the well-being of their employes and employes' families. These companies go far beyond what is required in order to promote their employes' welfare and to assist them in time of difficulty.

Thousands of companies give generously to charitable and civic projects in which their employes are interested. But Mr. Samuels and the union organization he works for refuses to acknowledge the human dimension of American business or to accept the businessman as a responsible, concerned citizen. No douht many union leaders believe they must develop a devil image of business. Otherwise, many people now enrolled in unions would drop their membership. This extreme union view is, of course, a minority view. Less than 25 percent of American working people belong to unions. Only a fraction.

It is reasonable to suppose, accept the fiercely anti-business notions evidenced by Mr. Samuels. Nevertheless, it is both sad and disturbing that such a distorted view should be accepted at all.

The ideas manifested by Mr. Samuels and other AFL-CIO officials can only make the workplace an unhappy place full of distrust and hostility instead of cheerfulness and productivity.

Public Notice Issue Date: May 9, 1974.

The following companies have applied for a State of Maryland NPDES permit to discharge the described wastes into the described receiving waters. On the basis of approved discharge restrictions, the State of Maryland proposes to issue permits to the following:

Application No.: MDP-73-441.

Charles M. Filsinger, Deer Park, Maryland, has applied for a State of Maryland NPDES Permit to discharge wastewaters into the waters of the State.

The applicant is engaged in the strip mining of coal. The discharge described in the application is effluent from sediment traps collecting strip mine drainage. The applicant is engaged in the strip mining of coal. The discharges described in the application are effluents from sediment basins collecting strip mine drainage. The discharges are to Laurel Run, southeast of Deer Park, Maryland. The receiving waters are classified for water contact recreation, for fish (natural trout waters), other aquatic life and wildlife.

On the basis of preliminary review and application of lawful standards and regulations, the Maryland Water Resources Administration proposes to issue permits to the above specified industries, to discharge, subject to certain effluent limitations and special conditions. These proposed determinations are tentative.

Date: Wednesday, June 12, 1974
Time: 11:00 a.m.
Place: Westernport City Council Meeting Room, City Hall Westernport, Maryland

Persons wishing to comment on the proposed determinations are invited to submit a statement to the Director, Water Resources Administration, no later than five days preceding the public hearing, or to be present or represented at the public hearing, or both. All comments and suggestions will be considered in the formulations of final determinations regarding the application. Think Again!...

Some shifts in public opinion concerning the things which make America great have shown up in a recent opinion poll. Of those questioned, 90 percent believe hard working people have been most important in the past, but only 74 percent believe hard work will be a major factor in America's future greatness. Around 88 percent credit development of rich natural resources as vital to present U.S. strength, but only 65 percent believe this will be as important in the future.

Larger numbers of people place emphasis on equal opportunity for all the races to get ahead and on individual fulfillment and a higher quality of human life as major factors in building the future greatness of the United States.

How we will clean up the environment, create job opportunities, raise human productivity and improve the individual's life quality unless we work hard and develop our natural resources, particularly those useful for the production of energy, is a complete mystery.

It is interesting to note that most of those who take this airy view of life in the future have had the benefit of a college education. No sweeping generalization can be made, but all this raises the suspicion that a college education cannot be said to automatically bestow upon its possessor a high level of intelligence. Ambition and old fashioned horse sense still count. This was the opinion expressed in an editorial of the Industrial News Review, and we agree.

Commencement Speaker's Topic, Crisis In Identity

"Crisis in Identity" will be the topic of the Commencement Address at the Second Annual Commencement of Garrett Community College on Saturday, May 18, to be delivered by Dr. Thomas E. Robinson, President Emeritus of Glassboro (N.J.) State College.

Twenty-eight graduates will have conferred the Associate in Arts degree. This is slightly more than double the number conferred in the College's first graduation exercise in May, 1973.

The ceremony will include an academic processional and recessional. The Garrett Community Chorus will render a selection during the program which will also include remarks by Rob Michael, President of the Student Government Assoc. and a member of the graduating class. The awards will be conferred by Mrs. Diane S. Thayer, Chairman

Accident Man Is Arrested For Rape

Roy Alfred Bittinger, Route 1, Accident has been charged with raping a 15-year-old girl from that area by Cpl. D. A. Tucker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police.

Bittinger was picked up Tuesday and lodged in the Garrett County jail overnight. He was released Wednesday morning on $10,000 property bond pending a trial in Circuit Court.

To Represent County

Neil Stoner will represent the county at the Knights of Pythias annual public speaking contest, to be held in Frederick the latter part of June.

Circus Shows Are Saturday, May 18

Roberts Brothers Circus will present two shows this Saturday, May 18, sponsored by the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

Two shows, at 2 and 4 p.m., will be presented at the area between Thayer Center and Super Dollar, off Route 219 north of Oakland.

Appearing under the canvas big top will be clowns, elephants, acrobats, jugglers, aerialists, and animal acts. Advance tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children up to 14 years of age, and are available at various business places in the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park area or from any fireman. There will be no advance ticket sales on show day, when tickets will be $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

The fire department is sponsoring the circus to help raise funds for a new fire truck needed by the group.

Cotton candy, popcorn and other refreshments that go along with a circus will be available.

Deer Park Water Resuming Normal Operations Friday

Deer Park Spring Water had an interruption in operations recently due to several causes.

Employes had been laid off the latter two weeks in April due to an overstocked inventory. The workers had been back to work only a week before the company supplying bottles for the water failed to make deliveries.

The plant has been working this past week with a reduced staff, but all regular employes are to be recalled and begin working regular schedules this Friday.

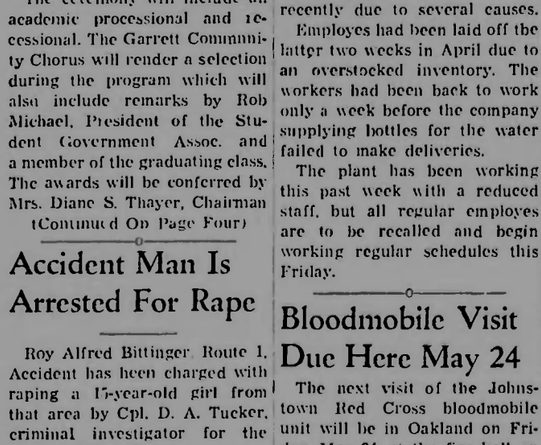
Bloodmobile Visit Due Here May 24

The next visit of the Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile unit will be in Oakland on Friday, May 24, at the fire ball on Third street, from 12 o'clock noon until 6 p.m., it was announced by Mrs. Norma Hesen, blood recruitment chairman.

The new quota for the year beginning June 1 will be 612 pints for full coverage in this county. Last year's quota was 593.

The bloodmobile will be running four units instead of three to help overcome the waiting period for blood donors.

It was noted that the local hospital used 16 pints during March and 25 during April. The March units went to six patients ages 26 to 85 years. Garrett county was one of a number of chapters qualifying during April 1 through June 30 for out of region replacement.



HUNDREDS of not-so-rambling wrecks like this one are visible along roadways throughout Garrett County. This one rests on a neatly clipped front lawn along Silver Knob Road. How can we dispose of these old junkers? For some further information on the problem, and some possible solutions, turn to Page Ten.

Development Plan Is Approved

Garrett County's first comprehensive development plan was approved by the county's Planning and Zoning Commission last Friday and sent on to the County Commissioners.

The plan is a master scheme for the county's future development, and concentrates on all of the necessary prerequisites for development such as roads, water and sewer service and utilities.

Wayne B. Hamilton, president of the commissioners, said during the three public hearings on the plan there was "generally good acceptance" of the proposal.

Prepared by Urban Research and Development, Inc., of Bethlehem, Pa., much of the plan is devoted to development of Deep Creek Lake, the county's economic and tourist mainstay.

Mr. Hamilton said the county is concerned that the lake could become overdeveloped and to prevent that an ordinance probably will be considered to limit the density of development in the lake area.

The comprehensive development plan must now be approved by the three-member board of commissioners before it goes into effect.

Tri-County Unit Is Meeting Today

The fiscal 1975 budget proposal, the new Appalachian Regional Commission project package, the annual report and election of officers will be the main agenda items at the Tri-County Council's annual meeting to be held this afternoon, May 16, at 2 o'clock at the Village Inn, McHenry.

Howard I. Heath, executive director, will report on the current status of the budget proposal. According to Mr. Heath, after almost a month of negotiations, the three counties have agreed on the amount that each will contribute.

Under the agreement Allegany and Garrett will each put in $8,900, while Washington county will contribute $6,900. Last year each of the counties pledged $2,000 initially but later paid an additional $1,200 each in order to lure communications specialist.

Primary reason for Allegany and Garrett contributing more this year than Washington county is for the support of a historic site survey presently under way in those counties.

The total Tri-County budget, including ARC and state funds, totals $181,231. The budget has been submitted to ARC for Mr. Heath.

A report on the ARC project package for fiscal 1975 will also be made, followed by the election of executive board members and officers.

The Peace Game

Peace is . . .

starting in the center of a green field of oats or barley in spring or an amber field in fall, and watching it undulate in the wind.

seeing an ant walk its laborious way along the cement crack, carrying a wounded ant.

being under a canopy of beech-oak-maple trees in Garrett County, with the only sound you hear coming from a scared chipmunk running over leaves.

watching a three-year-old and his puppy under a shade tree, knowing that Alexander Solzhenitsyn has escaped to a free world.

being quiet by a window when a sparrow has just alighted on the tree branch outside.

telling your neighbor how much you enjoyed the meal and especially the chocolate cake for dessert, as you go out the door.

waiting for the auctioneer's cry to begin a country sale after you have had time to inspect all the items.

never letting the number 13 bother you.

forgetting everything else and singing your heart out in a beautiful work by a master.

stepping into the barn that has just been stacked with new hay.

counting the number of daffodils you now have from your original six bulbs.

looking down over the blue ridges on either side of Monroe Run.

finding spring beauties in the wildflower book and realizing that you have some in the back yard.

mixing peat moss and forest soil for the holes where new evergreens will be planted.

plugging in the coffeepot right by the chair as you open to the title page of a new biography.

matching in mood the droning of a honeybee in flowers not too near your chair.

signing your name to eighteen items which you have re-written in the most sincere and expressive prose at your command.

Environmental Concerns Questionnaire Completed

An environmental concerns questionnaire has been completed by the Natural Resources committee of the Tri-County land, it was announced by Mrs. Mary Ellen Sollinger, chairman.

The questionnaire, designed to determine local concern in in the areas of pollution, conservation and reclamation in Western Maryland was distributed to more than 200 public and pivate agencies and groups. More than 51 percent of agencies surveyed returned the questionnaire.

Mrs. Sollinger said the report indicated that there seemed to be a high degree of public involvement in pollution control activities and that the public was aware of the poblem, but less involvement in conservation needs and projects.

She also pointed out that reclamation needs and projects seemed to be little known in this area and that public involvement was low. The report indicated that pollution of land and water, conservation of water resources and recreation areas, and reclamation of landfills, quarries and mines were by far the most pressing environmental issues in the tri-county council area.

Results are presently being used in the updating of the Appalachian Maryland Development plan.

Communications Between Parents, Teachers Approved

The Garrett County Board of Education adopted a policy statement at their regular meeting May 9, designed to encourage more communications between teachers and parents. The policy reaffirms the availability of school personnel during the school day. It also would permit the superintendent on a trial basis to grant permission to approved local school plans for early releasing of teachers who would initiate conferences in the evening with parents.

The Board agreed that all school personnel have a major responsibility for initiating communications with parents relative to needs of children. It was also felt that parents need to initiate their concerns about their children with the individual teacher who is working with the particular concern.

In other action the Board awarded bids for a pick-up truck, an automobile, and roofing materials for schools.

The Board also agreed on its support position of the school bus contractors' contracts for next year. William M. Goldsborough, President of the Board, will communicate this position to the State Transportation Advisory Committee at a meeting on May 21 at the State Department of Education.

The Board accepted the following retirement and resignations: Retirement: Mrs. Alta Newcomer, Southern, English-Reading. Resignations: Mrs. Helen Overdorff, Friendsville, Kindergarten; J. Stephen Neville, Northern, French; Anna M. Kupchunas, Kitzmiller, Gr. 4 5.

The Board also approved the superintendent's recommendation to appoint the following teachers: Mrs. Helen Carroll, Oak Street Kindergarten, and Christine Yoder, Accident, Special Education.

Two Injured In One-Car Mishaps Over The Weekend

Two one-car accidents in the county over the weekend injured one person in each, hospitalizing one. The other was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Both mishaps were blamed on high speed.

Kevin William Sines, 17, of Friendsville, a passenger in a car driven by John Wayne Suter, 16, also of Friendsville, was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following the accident Friday evening and discharged Monday.

Suter was traveling south on Blooming Rose road at an apparent high rate of speed. As he approached the intersection and attempted to make a right turn into Noah Frazee road, he lost control of the car and hit the guard rail. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore investigated the mishap.

Carl Dayton Schrock, 27, Baltimore, was treated and released from the hospital following a mishap just past midnight Sunday on old Route 38, Deer Park, just south of State Route 135.

Schrock was traveling north on old Route 38 at a speed said to be greater than reasonable and prudent under existing conditions. The car went off the roadway to the right, collided with a guard rail, spun around and collided with a wood fence.

Trooper C. H. Hinnant charged Schrock with operating at a speed greater than reasonable and prudent.

Rams Nip Keyser

Mike Brady shut off a Keyser rally in the fifth inning and tossed hitless ball in two and one third innings of relief as Southern slipped past the Golden Tornado of Keyser 4 to 3 in a PVC contest Tuesday at Oakland.

Southern scored three runs in the second to take the lead as Randy DiSimone blanked Keyser until the fifth when Brady came on.

The Rams snapped the deadlock in the seventh when Bob Tressler signaled and scored when the Keyser centerfielder bobbled Tom Panther's base hit. The win lifted the Rams mark to 6-2 on the season.

Hetrick, RD 1, Oakland, traveling west on Route 135 about a mile east of the Sand Flat road, O'Heaver attempted to pass the Hetrick car but when he was along side of it, it changed lanes in attempting to pass another vehicle and hit the rig. Tfc. L. R. Rosage charged Sheila Hetrick with improper passing.

A hit and run mishap occurred at Farmers' Market parking lot last Wednesday afternoon. The car of Andrew R. Reed, McHenry, was parked on the lot. A car, later found to be driven by Fay Edward Holler, Aurora, W. Va., hit the Reed car and fled the scene. A witness took the license number and gave the information to Reed. Tfc. L. R. Rosage investigated the accident.

Irvin K. Georg, Star Route, Accident, was traveling west on the Accident-Bittinger road the afternoon of May 7, in a State Highway Admin. truck.

Hot Line Begins Fourth Year Of Operation Here

The Garrett County Hot Line is now beginning its fourth year of operation in service to residents of the county. Hundreds of calls have been received by the volunteers who are trained in effective listening, information, and resources for referral to other agencies. "Callers find themselves in direct person to person contact with people who are willing and able to help" announced co-directors Mrs. Ann Broaddus and Pastor Donald Thomas.

The phone service operates from 8:00 p.m. to 11.00 p.m. seven days a week. The greatest number of calls deal with such problems as alcoholism, boy-girl relationships, parent-child relationships, loneliness and drug problems. For those people who are confined to their homes and desire more outside contact a Reverse Hot Line has been established with people called at regular intervals by the volunteers.

In every instance, the conversations with callers are kept in strictest confidence. Also, the identity of the volunteers is not made known and the identity of the caller will not be solicited in any way.

The phone number for Hot Line is 334-2118, and those residents of the county who live in areas where the 334 exchange is a toll call are asked to dial 9-2118, which makes the call toll free. Those who call at times when the Hot Line phones are not being staffed will receive a recorded message informing the caller of the exact hours of operation.

New volunteers are needed. Each volunteer is trained in listening, referral, and resource information before they begin to answer the phones. Persons not desiring to answer phones are able to serve in other needed capacities such as publicity, recruiting, and secretarial tasks. There are opportunities for continuing training for those who answer the phones.

'74 Bond Sales Remain High

American people have bought more Series E Savings bonds in the first quarter of 1974 than in any quarter since the war loans of 1945, it was revealed in the report of the U.S. Savings bonds program issued for March. First quarter E and H sales of $1,875 million were the highest on record since the H bond was issued in June, 1952.

In Maryland the E and H bond sales for March amounted to $13,574,699, compared to $11,119,279 for the same period in 1973.

In Garrett county the March sales amounted to $62,221. This gave a cumulative total for 1974 thus far to $181,095, compared to $169,101 for the same period in 1973. This was 30.7 percent of the county's quota of $590,100 for 1974. The county stood seventh in sales among the 23 counties and Baltimore city. Kent county was first and Queen Annes county second.

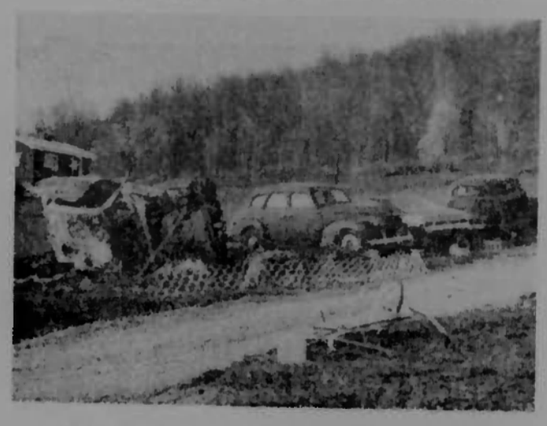
What Shall We Do With the Junkers?



LAWN FURNITURE along the Boiling Springs Road. An ideal place for children to play, for bees to swarm, for rodents to nest, for snakes to hide and for mosquitoes to multiply. An auto crushing firm is interested in operating in Garrett County which would haul these crates away at no cost to the owner.

by Ben Ridder

On a bright May morning as the sunbeams charge down one hillside after another, who could suspect that anything short of sheer natural beauty would invade our vision today? But it happens, even in picturesque Garrett County. And we don't have to wait long after daybreak for the ugliness to appear. As we look about us and marvel at the beauty of the apple blossoms . . . at the robins playing hopscotch on the lawn . . . as we listen to the grasshoppers take over the dayshift from the sleepy crickets, a tiny splinter of light, then a shaft of reflected glare smacks us in the face and diverts our attention.

Yes, it's still there! Just as it has been for many seasons —in some cases decades. It's that disgusting DeSoto, that pitiful Pontiac, and that unfortunate Ford which died on our property (or our neighbors' properties). Why didn't we give those old clunkers a decent funeral, and then get rid of them? Perhaps for sentimental reasons, or maybe we thought we'd restore them to running order some day, or maybe we thought we'd go into the used parts business. Perhaps those were good reasons at the time. But there are no good reasons anymore!

According to a recent survey compiled by the Tri County Council, using Garrett Community College students as researchers, over 1,860 of the decrepit chassis are now cluttering the Garrett County landscape. Our rustic environment is literally turning to RUST!

There are 568 junk sites in Garrett County.

Only 6[illegible] of these are recognized junk yards (6 cars or more at a site). The remaining 91 are sited throughout the county in [illegible] yards back [illegible] of the beaten track.

[illegible]

To make matters even worse, we are adding an estimated 200 cars per year to the nearly two thousand we now have.

Besides the social degradation, the health and safety hazard our malignant junk poses, [illegible] and adverse effect on our tourist [illegible] come to Garrett County for a nauseous look at our junk cars. And who could blame them?

Still, There's Hope!

Several recent developments have offered new hope for the disposal of junk cars:

1. The prices being paid for scrap metal now make it practical for junk dealers to process their autos, rather than let them sit.

2. The Solid Waste Disposal Plan for Garrett County, although not yet funded, provides for the purchase of a tilt-bed truck which would be used to pick up cars and haul them to a collection center for further disposition.

3. The State of Maryland now pays licensed scrap processors a ten dollar bounty for each car turned into scrap. The state has also imposed a $200. fine against motor vehicle abandonment.

4. Portable chassis crushers, metal shredders and special collection vehicles are now on the market and are being used profitably by many scrap metal dealers.

Best News of All

A private firm based in Allegany County which uses a chassis crusher, recently contacted the County Commissioners and expressed a desire to operate in Garrett County if there are enough junkers available to make such a move profitable. It is estimated they would need about 300 vehicles initially. The firm would set up operations near the population centers of the county and haul cars to those locations for crushing. It is hoped that [illegible] Garrett County sometime in June. All that is needed now is the number and location of the junkers you wish to have hauled away for crushing. There would be no cost to the owner for this service. So, if you have a hundred or only one car cluttering your property, I urge you to call the Garrett County Planning Commission, the Garrett County Commissioners or The Republican and your name will be passed along to the crushing firm when it arrives.

It would appear that we finally have the means to eliminate the junk. Now all we need is the desire to do it. If public opinion is strong enough perhaps we can at last start cleaning up this mess that has plagued us since the birth of the horseless carriage. And, some bright May morning, Garrett Countians may look about and again see the unspoiled natural beauty that was once ours.

[illegible] Page 11 - Laws Pertaining to Junk and Junkyards

CAUTION — A drive in the country might make you sick to your stomach! The scenery hasn't changed along the Oakland-Sang Run Road in spite of a new section of roadway completed last summer. Isn't it time we gave some thought to the roadSIDES ,too?

VALUABLE FARMLAND and excellent building sites are being turned into a wasteland of axles, wheels, fenders and chassis along Silver Knob Road. There are enough cars on this site to keep an auto crusher busy for several weeks. But first, the owners must be persuaded to let these wrecks go.

BEAUTIFUL CUT STONE HOMES, like the one located along U.S. Route 219 near Red House, are surrounded by rusting hulks, barrels of sludge, and numerous spare parts which will never again be used. Prices paid for scrap metal now make it worthwhile to clean up and sell the stuff. Why don't we?

HOW'S THIS FOR TEAM WORK!—A happy turkey hunter is Elaine Iden, left, who holds her reward for an easy day's hunt. Thanks to the expert calling ability of her husband, Larry, right, she killed this gobbler two hours after sunup on May 4, the last day of the season and the only day she hunted. The turkey, killed on Backbone Mountain, had a beard of 8 inches, and weighed 15 pounds dressed. Although this was her first attempt at turkey hunting, Elaine and her husband are ardent rifle and bow hunters. Mr. and Mrs. Iden reside at Red House with their two children, Rebecca and James.

FRICTION - THEN RUIN

Packed into every watch are cogs and wheels, levers and springs. Varying in size and shape, each helps keep time. But look more closely. A thin film of oil adheres to many of the moving parts. Without it there is friction—then wear and . . . damage.

Within most towns you'll find banks and shops, supermarkets and churches. They vary in size and purpose, yet each contributes to an orderly society.

Faith in God is essential to society. Without it there is friction—then distrust and . . . ruin.

In church people find faith that gives greater meaning to life in a complex and rapidly changing world. Is your life running smoothly? Why not attend church this Sunday?

THE SCANDAL OF GOD'S WILL

Lesson for May 19, 1974

Background Scripture: Acts 21 through 22
Devotional Reading: John 15:8-23.

I am often appalled by the hideous things people say about the will of God. No matter how great the tragedy, there can always be found someone to intone: "It must have been God's will!" The assumption seems to be that God desires us to both suffer and die, often cruelly. It is also often believed that the "true disciple" of Jesus will seek martyrdom.

Rev. Althouse

A time to live, time to die

Yet if we look closely at the Bible we find that this is not what it is saying to us. Paul, for example, though he was a man of courage, sometimes sought escape from danger. Shortly after his conversion, you will remember, he escaped a serious threat to his life by being let down in a basket over the wall of Damascus. There were other times too when he let his associates whisk him out of town just ahead of a hostile mob. If Paul had so much Christian courage, why didn't he stay and face these threats?

Paul probably chose to escape because he did not believe any purpose of God would be served by staying and risking death. Just as Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane had sought to avoid death, so Paul did not desire to become a martyr. Human life is precious, and the Christian is not expected to squander it senselessly.

On the other hand, in Acts 21 we find Paul determined to go to Jerusalem, even though the dangers before him are grave and evident. The difference is that Paul feels that God wants him in Jerusalem, not to die, but to perform a task for him. God does not will Paul's death, only his obedience. Still, it may be his obedience that makes his death almost inevitable.

Weakening my will

We must not assume either that this was "easy" for Paul. In Caesarea, his friends begged him to stay away from Jerusalem. Apparently, they were "getting to him," for at last Paul says in exasperation: "What are you doing, weeping and breaking my heart?" (21:13). The words, "breaking my heart," mean the same as "weakening my will." Thus Paul indicates that they are breaking down his will.

There are two wills involved here: God's will and Paul's. Paul believes that God is calling him to Jerusalem—not to die, but to witness, even though that witness will bring death. God does not desire Paul's suffering, only Paul's obedience to witness. Having determined that that is God's will, Paul then brings his own will into harmony with the will of God.

Acts 21 tells us, "And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased and said, 'The will of the Lord be done!'" This does not mean, "Do as you please" but "Do what God wants." Surely they resign him to death. But what happened it would be, not God's will, but the will of men. There is a difference and there is that difference.

Do you?

OUR LEGACY FROM THE MEDICINE MAN

Who would ever think on entering todays streamlined pharmacy that many of the medicines available had their early beginnings with the medicine man. Of course, they have undergone many changes and refinements. In early days Indians chewed on roots or leaves of certain plants in order to extract a "magic substance." This later evolved to a "more sophisticated" technique of cooking the roots for hours and then boiling down the resultant liquid.

Thousands of years have passed since these earliest processes were begun. Our contemporary drugs may bear little resemblence to their crude ancestors. But many of the basic chemical substances do date back to the medicine man.

Eggs Are Budget Stretchers

Food shoppers who are tightening the purse strings to balance their food budgets will find help at the egg counter these days, according to Virginia L. McLuckie, Extension food economist in Baltimore for the University of Maryland. "The Incredible Edible Egg" is the theme selected by the Maryland Egg Council for May Egg Month.

Eggs comprise one of the most nearly perfect foods, with nutritional value similar to those of meat. They are a natural protective food with protein that is complete, furnishing all of the amino acids essential for building and repairing body tissue.

Besides protein, eggs contain most of the vitamins and minerals which are vital to building and maintaining strong, healthy bodies. They put some stretch in your food dollar. A serving of two large eggs compares in protein value with a three-ounce serving of meat, and it will cost you less than 15 cents at current prices.

Eggs also are a valuable ingredient for your prepared dishes. Some hardcooked eggs in potato salad increase its protein value. You can stretch a few eggs into an entire meal for the whole family when you combine them with bread to make French toast, or you may cream hard-cooked eggs to serve on toast.

Enough eggs in pancakes makes them really worth eating. Have you tried "dip-witches?" Make a sandwich that you like to eat toasted instead of toasting, dip each side in an egg and milk mixture and fry like you do for French toast.

Eggs can well substitute for meat in any meal. Have you ever combined eggs and spaghetti?

Eggs Tetrazzini

1 package of spaghetti (8 oz.), 2 tbsp. flour, 2 tbsp. olive or salad oil, 1 tsp. salt, 1 medium onion, sliced, ¼ tsp pepper, ½ c. sliced celery, 1½ c. milk, 1 green pepper, sliced into thin rings, 6 hard-cooked eggs.

Cook Spaghetti according to package directions. Drain thoroughly. Heat oil in skillet. Add onion, celery and green pepper. Cook slowly for 5 minutes. Blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk and stir until thickened. Dice two of the eggs into the sauce. Pile spaghetti on hot platter. Top with hot sauce. Slice remaining eggs over sauce. For eye-appeal, garnish with a sprinkling of paprika and a few sprigs of fresh parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Big Jump Forward for Maryland

Maryland registered a substantial and impressive gain in the amount of federal money spent in the State last year. According to Treasury Department figures, we moved up three places among the 50 states in the total amount of federal funds received, and we jumped nine places in the amount of federal funds per person that came to the State.

As chairman of the Maryland Congressional delegation, which meets on a regular weekly basis to discuss how federal programs relate to our state, I would like to think that these figures indicate that the States elected representatives in Washington are aware of local needs, concerned at the impact of federal programs, and effective in representing the State's interests.

The Treasury Department figures are significant because they are concerned with federal money earmarked for the establishment and enrichment of activities that are largely Maryland-centered. In that regard, they are particularly gratifying to me as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which votes on the use of federal funds for various programs and projects.

The Treasury Department figures do not include the amount spent in Maryland for salaries of federal workers, most government-sponsored basic research, or transfer payments to individual citizens, like railroad retirement and social security. If these amounts were included, Maryland would rank even higher — 13th in the Nation in total federal funds spent and 8th in funds per person.

The Treasury figures provide a more accurate indication, however, of the amount of federal money spent for the benefit of Maryland itself.

The $8816 million that Maryland received last year put Maryland 19th among the states in total funds received and 32nd in the amount per person — $196. It was a jump of $237.2 million and $62 per person over the amount received a year earlier.

It is interesting to note that in 1969, Maryland received $280.3 million. We ranked 25th in total funds and 46th in per capita funds — $73. Obviously, in the past five years, we have made considerable progress.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues. Let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U S House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks:

How can we apply for a Basic Grant to help defray the high cost of sending your son to college?

You must first fill out the form Application for Determination of Basic Grant Eligibility" for the 1974-1975 academic year. This form may be obtained from your son's school or public library. If unavailable at these locations, write to Basic Grants, P.O. Box 84, Washington, D.C. 20044.

Have NASA funds been cut again by Congress?

No, and for the first time in four years there was no attempt to cut funds authorized for the space shuttle. In fact, $6 million additional was authorized for National Aeronautics and Space Administration research related to coal and hydrogen fuel.

What is the status of the Office of Economic Opportunity—will all the programs expire June 30?

The House Education and Labor Committee has moved to save the programs by passing a compromise measure which would abolish OEO as such, but house its major programs in a new Community Action Administration within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. By transferring the OEO programs to a traditional government agency the Committee hopes to ease opposition to continuing the programs beyond June 30. A vote on the proposal is expected in the House of Representatives sometime this month.

I see last week where Congress approved over $2 billion for energy research. What is this money going to be used for?

On April 30, the House of Representatives passed a bill appropriating $2.3 billion for federal energy research and development programs. About two-thirds of the total recommended funds would go for the Atomic Energy Commissions' nuclear power program and about one-fourth of the total was earmarked for the Department of the Interior. Major emphasis was on increased exploitation of the nation's abundant coal resources, particularly improvement in the technology for extracting synthetic oil and natural gas from coal.

Have social security benefit increases in recent years kept up with benefit increases of the past?

Social Security benefits were increased 20 percent in the 1950's, 20 percent in the 1960's and, counting the 11 percent boost taking effect this year, already 56 percent in the 1970's.

THE AMAZING PREDICTIONS OF THE PROPHET HOSEA

(Excerpt from Hosea 4-8 L.B.)

By

Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

Does History Repeat Itself?

Hear the word of the Lord, O People, for the Lord has filed a law-suit against you with a list of charges. THERE IS VIOLENCE everywhere — no kindness, no knowledge of God in the land. There is one murder after another — and the nation is filled with sadness. People are pointing their fingers at one another trying to place the blame. EVEN MINISTERS AND PRIESTS have become wicked. Wine, women and song have robbed the people of their brains. There is prostitution and adultery everywhere.

SOUND THE ALARM, a day of punishment is coming. THE LEADERS OF THE LAND HAVE BECOME THE LOWEST SORT OF THIEVES; therefore I will poor my anger upon them like an opened waterfall. God will sap away this nation's strength like dry rot.

I will no longer give this nation her rich harvests of grain in season. Now, I will expose this nation's nakedness in public for all the world to see. HER DAYS OF JOY ARE ABOUT TO END — WITH ALL THE PARTIES, HOLIDAYS, AND RECREATION AND FANCY FEASTS. Instead will be a jungle where wild creatures will reap a harvest.

No one can ever live in this land without being a liar, thief and bandit. Their sinful deeds give them away on every side. God sees them all.

They kill and disgrace their leaders one after another, and none cries out to me for help. MY PEOPLE MINGLE WITH THE HEATHEN PICKING UP THEIR EVIL WAYS. This nation's pride in other gods has openly condemned it, yet it doesn't return to its God, nor even try to find Him.

They lie there at night sleepless with anxiety, but won't ask my help. I have helped them and made them strong and prosperous, yet now they turn against me. They look everywhere, except to heaven. They have cut themselves off from my help by worshiping their idols of silver and gold. They have sown the wind and will reap the whirlwind. Their fields will stand barren, withered and sickly. IF THERE IS A HARVEST OF GRAIN, FOREIGNERS WILL EAT IT! This nation is like a broken pot. Like a wandering, lonely, wild animal. The only friends she has are those she hires and bribes. HER PEOPLES LOVE RELIGIOUS RITUALS, BUT THEY ARE MEANINGLESS TO GOD. This nation has built great defenses, but they have forgotten the Lord. Therefore I will send fire upon them and destroy their fortresses.

REMEMBER: THE WICKED SHALL BE TURNED INTO HELL AND ALL NATIONS THAT FORGET GOD. (Psa. 9:17).

Next week more from Hosea!

The Two Americas

What is America? This question has a direct bearing on our current national travail. At this point in our history, we cannot agree as to what we are or what we should be. We are a divided people engaged in a protracted struggle to determine the future direction of our country.

The battles rages over domestic legislative items, foreign policy positions, and economic doctrines. But, in a larger sense, the strategic stake in the struggle is the mind and spirit of America.

The combatants in this conflict are conservatives and liberals, free enterprise and advocates of an authoritarian economy. They constitute real blocs on the national scene. Indeed it is only right to say that there are two Americas, not one.

The position of one America --liberal America--is well-known as this camp commands innumerable outlets and has many articulate spokesmen. In brief, liberal America holds that the United States is in need of radical restructuring. Michael Harrington, a leading socalist writer, has summed up the liberal-left point of view, saying the United States has "a deep, even principled commitment to the wrong priorities."

But the outlook of the other America--conservative America--is not well understood. It is in a minority position insofar as numbers of outlets and spokesmen are concerned.

The liberal establishment would do well to listen for a change and try to understand what it is that troubles conservatives. For though liberalism dominates the universities and the metropolitan media, it is clear that conservative convictions are shared by millions of people at the grassruots.

Conservatives are deeply troubled by what Joseph Alsop has referred to as those who are "deathlessly devoted to a policy of national weakness." It is in this area that liberal-conservative differences are greatest.

Conservatives fear that the diminishment of America's power would mean the toss of historic liberties. The liberal-left, on the other hand, is united in agreeing that the United States today has too much power in the world that the nation would do better as a second class power.

Another major conservative concern is with the liberal Intelligentsia's put-down of the values of Middle America--what the attitude novelist Jean Stafford has described as "Metropolitan provincialism." There is a strong feeling among conservatives that the dominant liberal intelligentsia is inadequately concerned with the full range of American life.

Another concern relates to the liberals' lack of respect for men who manufacture things and create wealth. The focus of liberal attention is the technocrat, the planner, statistician and official whose life is involved with report writing and paper shuffling. The risk-taker in business has long since ceased to be a culture hero.

The conservative also is concerned about excessive government power, with bureaneratic arrogance and the notion that officialdom has a superior wisdom.

Finally, conservatives are concerned that liberalism involves a dangerous appeasement of brutal forces, as in the kidnapping of Patricia Hearst. Conservatives are reminded of the statement by W. R. Inge that "Ancient civilizations were destroyed by imported barbarians, we breed our own."

These are legitimate concerns touching on the future of the United States. As the liberals are the dominant force in the universities and the metropolitan media, it would seem to be in their own interest to listen to the other America and comprehend its concerns. But, at this point, there is little evidence that the liberals are listening.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sirs

I would like to know what a subscription to your paper would cost for one year. Last year we bought some land near Bittinger and built a cabin, which we looked forward to using happily for many years. However, as soon as we put something into it, it was broken into and ransacked, completely. Later, some teenagers broke in to hold a party there. Then, once more, it was broken into again. . . . that is three times in a matter of months. Up until this occurred, we were very impressed with the people we had met and dealt with in Garrett County. We had found them to be warm, honest, and friendly people, but now, we are very disheartened about that community and wonder if anything can be done to find the people, who are constantly stealing things that don't belong to them. Other land owners in the area are now hesitating about building there since crime is so rampant. I find we are not the only ones who have been victimized and something should be done.

I thought if we subscribed to your paper we could be better informed about what is being done in this area as well as everything else there. Thank you.

Yours truly,
Mrs. David Rosenthal
Bethesda, Md.

Gratitude

Dear Sir:

The present under thirty generation has been criticized as being an ungrateful one. Many of them cannot spell the word, much less define it. If you think this is unfair, make your own survey by asking the question to any group, whether they are in a tavern, school, Sunday School, or wherever the crowd is.

I am prompted to write this to congratulate Tamarack for her recent column, "Legacies."

I'm sure she can spell the word and knows exactly what it means.

Congratulations to Tamarack and The Republican for printing it.

Leslie J. Stanton
Grantsville, Md.

Dear Editor

Do you feel safer with more intoxicated liquor drinkers, or with less of them? I feel we should tell our men in Congress and the House how we feel, and the Nation, or in this case our State, should they be given the right to vote. A copy of the following letter has been forwarded to our governor:

Honorable Sir:

I am wondering what has become of our government and its reasoning. In my point of view we have enought crime everywhere, so I strictly object to your signing the drinking bill to permit people at 18 years of age to purchase and consume intoxicating liquor.

If you sign this bill and altow 18 year olds privilege to drink all they want, any time they want it, you have lost your sense of being a decent, respectful father. Our highways and country sides will become a slaughter house. If you ask me, I will say that our crime rate will increase to the highest level ever recorded because of the greed for revenue.

Sincerely,
Mrs Jacob Oester

Rams Take Twin Bill From Eagles

Final innings surges and a shutout pitching performance gave Southern High Rams a double header sweep over the hosting Eagles of Fort Ashby last Thursday afternoon.

Southern Rams won both games on the final inning of each contest as they took the opener 6-5 and then won the nightcap 1 to 0.

After a 1-1 first inning in the opening game Fort Ashby got a 3-1 advantage in the bottom of the second. But the Eagle lead was short lived as the Rams counted with two tallies in the third inning to knot the score. This lasted until the top of the final inning when the Rams came up with three decisive run on a four hit rally.

Craig Bosley took the opening mound win for the Rams and Mike Murphy was the loser for the Eagles.

Keeping the final inning victory habit the Rams claimed the win in the five inning second game with one tally in the fifth. Southern's right fielder Fletcher got aboard in the top of the fifth on a Fort Ashby fielding error. As Fletcher tried to steal second the Eagle catcher threw the ball away trying to cut down the runner, who skipped to third.

Propose Expanded Lands For Hunting

A series of five public hearings to discuss proposed regulations to expand the acreage of undeveloped state lands open to public hunting will be held by the Park Service of the Department of Natural Resources between May 20 and May 29.

The schedule includes:

Regulations proposed for Rocky Gap (1,440 acres) and Deep Creek Lake (880 acres) State Parks, 7:30 p.m. May 23 in the theater of the Allegany Community College, Cumberland.

Under the proposals, hunters would be allowed to pursue their recreation in designated acreage of the parks with the purchase of a $2 permit which would be valid in any park hunting area of the state.

Areas will be remote from normal use areas of the parks and will be marked by signs on the ground as well as delineated in brochures given to hunters when they enter the park. There would be a buffer zone between the areas.

In order to take part in the expanded park hunting recreational program, hunters, of course, must have the regular State hunting license and abide by other state hunting laws and regulations.

Try Our Want Ads—They Pay!

Rams second baseman Kitzmiller then supplied the sacrifice fly to score Fletcher for the victory. Southern pitcher Randy DiSimone kept the Eagles off the scoreboard through the first four innings with Prady coming in relief in the fifth to score the win.

High Honors . . .

Parents and others concerned with the educational system in Garrett County, must wonder from time to time how it ranks with systems in other parts of the country.

For example, of county students in various colleges and universities there ought not to be much worry. On every side we hear of graduates from both Southern and Northern High Schools graduating "magna cum laude," with high honors, "cum laude" with honors, and occasionally with highest honors "summa cum laude." There were a number of these this year.

Our guess, however, is learned that students from these two high schools have 4 point averages which means an all "A" record throughout a semester, a term, or a full year or more.

Certainly it is safe to assume that students attending Northern and Southern High Schools are being taught properly how to prepare for college, how to study and how to apply themselves after they leave the local institution. Of course, there must be bright students to start with. Many bright students we know throw themselves away by indifference and lack of applying themselves to the task ahead.

But by and large, we should be justly proud of the record of our students in institutions of higher learning. They show up as good or better than many areas.

Garrett Memorial Has $10,811 Deficit For Fiscal 1973

Garrett County Memorial Hospital was one of two of the five hospitals serving Western Maryland that finished the last fiscal year in the red, according to statistics from the State Health Service Cost Review commission.

The local hospital in Oakland showed a deficit of $10811 in 1973. Memorial Hospital in Cumberland lost $65,062.

According to Merritt Feather, local hospital administrator, the deficit was due to chargebacks on medicare and medicaid, bad accounts, and spiraling costs from suppliers that the hopital is unable to control.

Garrett Memorial's figures show an operating loss of $83,738 but that was partially off-set by other income of $72,927.

The Cost Review commission oversees Maryland's 56 hospitals and on July 1 it will assume rate-setting powers for the hospitals.

All of Maryland's hospitals will increase patient rates before July 1, when the state agency assumes rate settings powers. Since April 30, six hospitals in the Baltimore area increased rates.

Women Bowlers Win Tournament

The Women's bowling team from Par-Matt Lanes, which took part in the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament at Houston, Texas in early April, was informed this week that the local team had been declared the winning team in division 2.

The contest began April 4 and continued to May 18 with over 35,000 women bowlers participating from the United States and foreign countries. When the local team bowled in early April it was placed No. 1 at the time and apparently held that position.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Linda Freyman
Box 587-C, Rt. 1
Deer Park, Md. 21550

Dear Sirs:

I have some good news and some bad news! First, the good news. . . . . .

The local residents have made us feel very welcome. I had grown up here but went away to college and to work. Soon, my husband and I tired of the city pace and we moved to the lake. What a contrast! Folks wave to us from passing cars. Passers-by in town greet us cordially. Local employees are friendly and helpful. One evening I had car trouble in Loch Lynn. Moments later a young man stopped to help. Seconds later a man in a second car offered assistance. Five minutes later that young man had analyzed and solved the problem. If I had been in the city I probably would have spent several hours waiting for help. So thanks, residents, for a heart-warming welcome!

Now for the bad news. . . .

The bad news comes mainly on weekends in the form of a certain kind of vacationer who brings his loud voice, rude children, nosy, barking dogs, and a general disrespect for his environment and his neighbor's privacy. Many times in the aftermath of the weekend I have surveyed a lakefront scene of beverage cans, snap tops, paper trash, broken toys, and forgotten minnows and crawfish. The noise and confusion plus deliberate harassment have chased the waterfowl we take so much pleasure in. We will never understand how some persons can be so oblivious to the beauty and serenity that most of us treasure in this area.

Maybe this summer some of the good news rubs off onto the bad news! !

Bill and Linda Freyman

Gentlemen:

How glad I was to read your article in the paper of helping people to get rid of their "junk cars." We bought a small country home on Bray School Road a few years back and included was one of these heaps. We've tried even to pay someone to haul it away and have had no luck, so praise be to the ones who thought of helping folks like us.

We are not there much, so any time you find a solution to the problem, please put our name on the top of your list for interested persons.

Thank you,
Mrs. Paul Chaney
Monrovia, Md. 21770

P.S. This gives you permission to go in next to our woods and get our car—whether we are there or not! If any doubt as to its location, call our neighbor, Mary Mayle 387-6305.

Dear Sir:

In direct retaliatory response to the misconception published in The Republican newspaper last week by Ben W. Ridder under the title, "What Shall We Do With the Junkers?" I Ernest Martin, owner of Martin Trucking corporation, Sunnyside Salvage Yard, Martin's TV Sales and Service, along with six other business ventures I participate in, wish to come to my own defense.

The author thought I had too many trucks at my residence and garage, near Red House. Eight years ago I moved into a new home and I do wish the author of the article and picture could boast the same, but he cannot. The picture was taken of my home and business without my knowledge or consent and I consider it a slap in the face.

This author apparently did not know that the barrels he mentioned as being full of sludge were really full of motor oil which cost me nearly $100 per barrel. This photographer apparently doesn't know that one of the trucks vaguely shown in the background is a truck I recently paid $28,000 for and consider it a bargain.

I do acknowledge the fact that there are cars all over the place that could be cleaned up and things made to look a lot better, but to put the picture of my place in with the same classification as all the others is a misled conception. I do appreciate the opinion of this author as to the appearance of the cut stone house of ours which he called beautiful. This one fact I may agree with but when he mentioned spare parts which would never be used again I must explain that I sell these parts as one of my businesses and it has turned out amazingly successful for the past four years.

In summarizing the situation in my humble opinion the author should know more about what he is taking pictures of.

I make a good living by creating a business that no one ever thought of or tried to do before, and this business has been successful and profitable beyond all expectations.

Austin Scheermesser, Bloomington, was found not guilty of assault and battery on Elizabeth A. Neat, at Bloomington April 25, at a trial May 14.

Comprehensive Plan Adopted By Commissioners

The County Commissioners adopted the Comprehensive Master Plan for the county at their regular meeting Monday, which the Planning Commission has been working on for the past two years. The commission recommended its adoption two weeks ago.

Until Monday Garrett County was the only county in the state that had not adopted a comprehensive plan. All counties of the state are now in compliance with Article 66B which mandated that every county adopt such a plan.

The adoption of the plan followed public hearings held throughout the county for alterations or additions to the draft.

Col. John T. R. Smith, Jr., deputy administrator for the State Aviation Administration, and Lowell Frederick, representative from the Department of Economic and Community Development, met with the commissioners to discuss upgrading the county airport near Mellenry. They explained the funding available through the Federal Aviation Agency, Appalachian Regional Commission, and the State of Maryland to pay for a study of airports not only here but throughout the state.

One recommendation was to establish an airport advisory commission for the county to help with establishing a study for the upgrading.

In continuing budgeting sessions the commissioners approved the Social Services budget in the amount of $91,592, with $16,921 for Food Stamps Administration.

William Dean Associates was awarded a contract for designing and engineering of the Savage River bridge.

The commissioners spent the afternoon in a budget work session on the school board budget proposal. Dr. William W. Pope, county health officer, met with the commissioners for a budget hearing also.

Is The Lord With Us?

More than once in American history it has been said that we either survived or persevered "only by the Grace of God." Certainly this was true in the very beginning, in our Revolutionary War. Compared with the military might of Great Britain, the chances of victory on the part of the ill-clothed, scantily armed and out-numbered American patriots seemed slight. General George Washington was the first to give credit to the help of God in our ultimate victory. Our readers will, we are sure, be able to recall many other times when nothing little short of a miracle has pulled the United States through difficult times.

This winter another miracle seems to have turned up at a most propitious time. Faced with an extreme heating fuel emergency, the chances of economic disaster were great. Early last fall there were warnings that some factories and manufacturing plants would be heatless, that schools would have to close part of the time, and that hapless occupants of homes and households would be shivering in bonechilling cold.

As it turned out, the United States has enjoyed one of the warmest winters on record. Last week, for example, the East Coast was basking in temperatures that reached into the 80's. Hopefully, if we enjoy a warm Spring, we will have come through with a very low demand for heating requirements.

Somebody "up there" must be looking out for us but we can't understand why. — U.S. Press Association

Bird Counters Note 142 Species May 4

Volunteer bird counters broke the spring count record May 4, when they polled 142 species and 7,648 individual birds in the county. Last year's total was 130 species.

According to Mrs. William Pope, coordinator of bird counts here for the Maryland Ornithological Society, "a really great" turnout of 37 volunteers spent their day identifying and listing birds. Results of the count will appear in the June issue of Maryland Bird Life, publication of the Maryland Ornithological Society.

Most unusual birds sighted were two yellow-headed blackbirds, which are common to the west but seldom seen in the east, except along the coasts. Mrs. Pope feel this may be the first county record of such a bird.

Again the most common bird was the red-winged blackbird, with 915 counted, followed by common grackle, 753; robin, 575, and starling, 505. All four common birds were also the most-sighted last year.

Some birds showed increases in numbers, such as the black-capped chickadee and song sparrow, with twice as many this year. There were three times as many Eastern bluebirds and Baltimore Orioles, with several reports of nesting birds.

All species of woodpeckers and swallows were counted for the first time in several years.

Anyone interested in subscribing to the Maryland Bird Life magazine, or in obtaining a copy of the June issue, should contact Mrs. William Pope.

Laws Pertaining To Junk And Junk Yards

by Ben Ridder

In the interest of clarity I must point out that last week's article was directed inward the nearly 2,000 junk cars in Garrett County. It was NOT a personal attack on private individuals, as some may have thought.

This week, I wish to feature portions of some State and County ordinances, which are either unknown or ignored by the public and are rarely enforced.

A. ARTICLE 89B OF THE ANNOTATED CODE OF MARYLAND:

Section 242. License Required for Junk Yard.

"On and after January 1, 1968, no person shall establish, operate or maintain a new junk yard, or expand the area of an existing junk yard, any portion of which is within 1,000 feet of the nearest edge of the right-of-way of any interstate or primary highway and visible from the main traveled way of the highway, without obtaining a license from the State Roads Commission. The provisions of this section shall not apply to junk yards in existence on or before January 1, 1968, except to those junk yards which expand the area of their operation. (1967, ch. 678.)"

Section 245. Existing Junk Yards to be Screened or Relocated.

"Any junk yard lawfully in existence on June 1, 1967, which is within 1,000 feet of the nearest edge of the right-of-way and visible from the main traveled way of any highway on the interstate or primary system

"shall be screened by the State Roads Commission at locations on the highway right-of-way. If screening on the right-of-way is feasible, or, if not, in areas acquired for such purposes outside the right-of-way, so as not to be visible from the main traveled way of such highways, or relocated as elsewhere in this subheading provided. 1967, ch. 678.)"

Section 247. Violations.

(a) Injunction — The State Roads Commission may apply to the Circuit Court of Baltimore City or the Circuit Court of any county in which any nonconforming junk yard may be located for an injunction for violation of this subheading.

(b) Penalties, continuing violations. — Any violation of the rules and regulations promulgated by the State Roads Commission, including the establishment maintenance, or operation of a junk yard without a license, is a misdemeanor, punishable upon conviction thereof by a fine of not less than $25, nor more than $100, and, in default of the payment thereof, shall undergo imprisonment for not more than thirty days. Whenever the State Roads Commission has given written notice that a junk yard is maintained or used in violation of this subheading, each day of such maintenance or use beginning with the thirty-first day following receipt of notice shall constitute a separate offense. (1967, ch. 678.)"

The State law above pertains to those junk yards located along the major highways in the state and county. All other junk yards in the county, which are outside the corporate limits of a town, are governed by the following county ordinance which became effective October 1, 1965:

B. RULES AND REGULATIONS GOVERNING JUNK YARDS IN GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND.

Section I: Application.

A. Application: These rules and regulations shall apply to all junk yards, public or private dumps, automobile junk yards or outdoor places where old motor vehicles are stored in quantity or dismantled, and lots on which refuse, trash or junk is deposited.

Section II: Procedure for obtaining license.

A Application for license. An application form may be obtained from the Office of the County Commissioners. This application form must be completed and filed with the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland.

B. Issuance of license: After due consideration of the Application by the County Commissioners, a license to operate will be granted by the County Commissioners if such license is not considered to be detrimental to the public interest.

Section IV: Requirements.

A Location (1) No junk yard, old motor vehicle storage yard, motor vehicle dismantling yard or public or private dump may be located closer than 500 feet to a public highway.

(2) No junk yard, old motor vehicle storage yard, motor vehicle dismantling yard or public or private dump may be located closer than 1,000 feet to a public park, public beach, or other public recreational area.

(3) No junk yard, old motor vehicle storage yard, motor vehicle dismantling yard, or public or private dump may be located closer than 1,000 feet to a residence or business establishment unless such installation is effectively screened from view of such residence or business establishment by natural growth of trees or tree plantings so as not to detract from the value of such residence or business establishment and so as not to be detrimental to the business conducted by such business establishment.

(4) No junk yard, old motor vehicle storage yard, motor vehicle dismantling yard, or public or private dump may be located at any other site that may be determined by the County Commissioners to be detrimental to the public interest.

Section V Maintenance

A. Screening: Any junk yard, old motor vehicle storage yard, motor vehicle dismantling yard, or public or private dump licensed for operation as outlined in these rules and regulations shall be effectively screened from public view by natural growth of trees, a planting of trees or by a fence of a kind that will not be unattractive to the public view. When such screening shall involve any cost, such cost shall be borne by the licensee.

B. Order: Any junk yard, old motor vehicle storage yard, motor vehicle dismantling yard, or public or private dump licensed for operation as outlined in these rules and regulations shall be maintained in such orderly fashion that shall be prescribed from time to time by the County Health Department in order to safeguard the public health and welfare.

Section VI Inspection and Enforcement

A Inspection: All licensed junk yards, old motor vehicle storage yards, motor vehicle dismantling yards, or public or private dumps shall be inspected twice annually by the County Health Department and a report of the conditions submitted to the County Commissioners for review. Such report shall include any recommendations of the County Health Department for compliance with the rules and regulations provided for herein.

B Enforcement: A violation of any rule or regulation, including the maintenance or operation of any such junk yard or dump without a license, is a misdemeanor, subject upon conviction to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Each day on which a violation continues is a separate offense.

Section VII Existing Locations

A All locations of existing junk yards, old motor vehicle storage yards, motor vehicle dismantling or storage yards, or public or private dumps shall be subject to all the rules and regulations established herein, except that, any person unable to comply with the rules and regulations set forth herein must apply within 60 days of the promulgation of this ordinance to the County Commissioners for an exception to the rules and regulations.

Section VIII Intent and Purpose

A. Intent: The intent of these rules and regulations is to license and control the location and maintenance of junk yards, public and private dumps, automobile junk yards or outdoor places where old motor vehicles are stored in quantity or dismantled, and lots on which refuse, trash or junk is deposited.

B Purpose: The purpose of these rules and regulations is to protect the residents of the County from unpleasant and unwholesome conditions and neighborhoods, to preserve the beauty and esthetic value of rural or residential areas, to safeguard the public health and welfare, to promote good civic design and to promote the health, safety, morals, order, convenience, and prosperity of the community.

THERE GOES 250

It was learned this week that a portable auto crusher owned by Delmar Dennis of Uniontown, is presently crushing cars at Deep Creek Auto Parts on Route 495 at Swanton. When finished he will have crushed 250 cars at this location. Mr. Dennis will then haul the metal to Akron for shredding.

Mr. Bruce Gipe, owner of Deep Creek Auto Parts, has disposed of 800 vehicles by this method since taking over that business a year ago. His is one of six licensed junk yards in Garrett County. In a phone conversation this week, Mr. Gipe stated that he pays $10.00 for each chassis delivered to his junk yard. If a vehicle is over seven years old he must tag it for inventory. Then, if he has not processed that car within one year, he must pay a state inventory tax of $10.00 for each year he keeps it. This inventory tax encourages the crushing of cars in a licensed junk yard, but it's also unfair, since unlicensed yards have no limits, restrictions or inventory taxes to pay.

Perhaps the first step toward eliminating a great many junkers is to make certain all junk yards are licensed by either county or state and that all junk dealers be required to pay inventory taxes on older cars. But that requires enforcement and enforcement won't happen unless public opinion warrants it.

What's YOUR opinion, Mr. and Mrs. Public?

Four Involved In W. Va. Mishaps

Four residents of the Oakland area were involved in separate accidents in West Virginia last week.

Sheriff's deputies investigated a one-car accident Saturday, May 18, at 12:30 a.m. which sent two passengers to the hospital.

Driver of the 1972 Ford pickup was Danny C. Beckman, 21, who lost control of his vehicle at the intersection of Route 219 and 24 near Horse Shoe Run.

The car, which ran off the road and overturned, was said to be a total loss.

Taken to the hospital were Ralph V. Wolfe, 15, and Samuel D. Shaluta, 17, both of Route 2, Oakland.

Mary Ellen Lichty, Oakland, was involved in a collision with a vehicle operated by James L. Metheny, 23, Kingwood, at 3:26 p.m. Sunday on the Braddonville Pike, three miles north of Terra Alta.

According to the police report, the Lichty vehicle crossed the center line on a narrow road and struck the Metheny car. No citations were issued. Total damage was estimated at $800.

Huskies Down Southern 8 To 4

Ron Teets scattered eight hits and banged out three hits in four trips to the plate to lift Northern High to an 8-4 victory over Southern Rams on the Huskies diamond on Tuesday afternoon.

The Huskies erupted for five runs in the bottom of the first to overcome a 2-0 Southern lead and went on to win. Teets doubled and singled twice as the Huskies raked a pair of Southern twirlers for ten hits.

Greg Humberson rapped a pair of safeties and Allan Bach a four-bagger for the winners. Bob Tressler had two hits for the losers.

Feld Heads Crew At Pennsylvania

Michael Feld, Oakland, captained the varsity lightweight crew at the University of Pennsylvania to a highly successful season. With Feld in the number five seat in the lightweight shell, Penn won three out of four cup races and placed second in the Eastern Sprint Rowing Championships. The Quakers captured the Matthews Cup over Cornell on Lake Cayuga and took the Dodge Cup by beating Yale and Columbia before losing the Wood-Hammond Cup to Princeton. The following week the lightweight eight won the Callow Cup downing Navy but lost to M.I.T., who was not competing for the cup, in the same race.

At the Eastern championships on May 11, Penn finished second only to Harvard on Lake Quinsigamond in Worcester, Massachusetts. Although losing the race to Harvard, Feld and his teammates were able to avenge their only three previous losses of the year. The Penn shell completed the 2000-meter course in the Easterns ahead of M.I.T., Rutgers, and Princeton, who had all beaten the Quakers earlier in the spring. Feld, who attended Mercersburg Academy, graduates from the university this spring.

Garrett Has Least Cost Per Pupil In St. School System

Garrett County has the lowest cost per pupil in the 24 school systems in Maryland, according to a statistical handbook recently released by the Maryland State Department of Education.

Total cost per pupil was $707, with 14.7 percent from federal funds, 56.3 from state monies and 29.0 from local sources.

Fall enrollment in Garrett public schools in September 1973 was 5,783, with 424 in kindergarten, 2,795 in grades one through six and 2,564 in grades seven through 12.

Garrett teachers' salaries began at $7,000, also the lowest rate in the state.

A total of 320 students graduated in 1973, 85.3 percent of the ninth-graders counted in 1969. Lowest holding power percentage was St. Mary's, with 64.1 percent.

Certificated staff employed in prekindergarten through twelfth grade numbered 312 in 1973. Two hundred ninety-eight of these are assigned to schools while 14 are central office staff. Total staff, including 19 aides, eight superintendents, directors and supervisors, 12 principals and vice principals, 278 teachers and eight guidance medics and psychological personnel, numbers 425.

Garrett received $2,898,752 in state aid this year with $54,000 for debt service. Current expenses paid by the state amounted to $2,804,752, covering $665,592 for transportation and $153,517 for handicapped children.

Total funds to handicapped children provide $41,000 for 49 children cared for in homes and hospitals; $89,617 to the 161 taught in special classes in public schools, and $22,700 for the traveling speech therapists for the schools, who aid 227 children.

State aid per pupil is $502, compared to $19,739 assessed valuation per pupil. Assessed valuation is the total land assessment value in the county divided by the total number of pupils going to school here. St. Mary's was again the lowest in this category, with $294 to $15,853 assessed valuation per pupil.

There are 518 participants in kindergarten through grade 3 in the federally-funded ESEA Title I program for disadvantaged children. Garrett is allocated $213,386.

Each of the 17 county schools has a library. These school "media centers" have a total of 102,625 books, 254 periodicals, and 21,143 film strips, cassettes, etc. There are two professional librarians and two aides. The local Ruth Enlow library was listed as having 42,944 books in its six branches and one bookmobile. Circulation is 113,865. Total operating cost is $71,458, or $3.43 per capita.

New programs to aid children with reading difficulties have been established here, with 22 adult volunteers under ESEA auspices. Parents and others in this program have had special training to assist children.

In adult education programs administered by the local board of education, there are 555 participants, 15 in adult basic, 462 in general, and 78 in adult vocational.

In vocational-technical programs in the schools, there are 1,107 participants, 116 in agriculture, 508 in consumer and homemaking education, 1,641 in business and office occupations, 476 in trade and industrial education, 126 in general cooperative occupations.

In 1972-73 there were 78 adults in a vocational adult education program. Forty-nine were in distributive education, 19 in technical education and 10 in industrial and trade education.

On the state level, federal funds provide 8.5 percent, or $81,502,606 of the school budget, the state provides 33.2 percent, or $329,352,711, and local sources come up with 58.3 percent, or $578,209,638.

Instruction get 68.1 percent of the total income for schools; maintenance and operation, 11.9 percent, pupil transportation 4.2 percent, administration, 2.4 percent. The remaining 13.4 percent goes for fixed charges, outgoing transfers, pupil personnel service, health service, and similar items.

Two Publications, Film, Deal With State Forests

Two new publications and a film, all dealing with forestry in Maryland, are available to the public, the Department of Natural Resources announced.

The film and brochure to accompany it, both entitled "Trees Are for People," have been issued by DNR's Extension Service.

A quarterly newsletter "Maryland Forestry" has been issued by DNR's Public Information Services.

All deal with the work of DNR's Forest Service and are free.

In Maryland there are 187 species of trees which act as a watershed, as well as air conditioners and noise pollution reducers.

Since only 10% of Maryland's forested acreage is owned by the Federal and State governments, the Forest Service has developed a program to assist the private landowner. This program not only helps preserve existing woodlands but helps the landowner get the most from his trees.

Religious Drama To Be Presented

Two unusual services are scheduled for Sunday, May 26, at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland.

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock "Christ in the Concrete City," a religious drama depicting what sinful men have done and are still doing to the Christ of God, will be presented by members of Zion Lutheran Church, Accident.

Players take the parts of those closest to Jesus during his earthly life as well as those counted as his enemies. The story begins with the prayer of Jesus at Gethsemane and goes to the scene of his resurrection on Easter morning.

Participating are Darl Kolb, Glenn Kolb, Jeanne Carstens, Kendra Fratz, Rev. Fred Illick, pastor; and Franklin Schwing, of St. Johns, Cove.

The public is invited. The offering will go to members of the Northern and Southern Rescue Squads.

In the morning at 10 o'clock, there will be a special service of music including a woodwind ensemble, flute solo, trumpet selection, several anthems by the choir, and numerous hymns for congregation participation.

Tri-County Unit Picks Hamilton

Wayne B. Hamilton, president of the Garrett County Commissioners last Thursday was re-elected chairman of the Tri-County Council for Western Maryland along with all other officers and directors at the council's annual meetings at Village Inn, McHenry.

Re-elected directors included Commissioners Earl E. Opel and Hamilton, Charley B. Miller, Friendsville; and Col. J. H. Jackson, Oakland, representing this county.

Benjamin Berry, project administrator for the council, submitted a progress report on the proposed bridge over the Chessie System tracks in Cumberland.

A precarious state was reported for the Bicentennial Trail project through the three counties parallel to route 40. Only Washington county has budgeted funds for the fiscal year starting July 1 for the trail project. The Garrett commissioners were still debating details of their budget.

Action on the abandoned vehicle project also was referred to the county commissioners of the three counties for implementation. The council conducted a survey which revealed that there are between 10,000 and 12,000 abandoned vehicles in the three counties.

During the past year he was involved in a research program relating to the effects of pollutants on protozoan and stream fauna. This research is to be published in a national scientific journal. Mr. Trickett is a graduate of Southern High school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trickettt, Rosedale.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE PRISONERS

Lesson for May 26, 1974

Background Scripture: Acts 25 through 26
Devotional Reading: Psalms 118:6-9

Two men faced each other. One was a ruler with the power to pronounce both verdict and sentence. The other was a man in chains. Yet, the man in chains was not the prisoner!

Rev. Althouse

The king was Agrippa, the grandson of Herod the Great. Born into a royal family, he had been educated in the most cosmopolitan of all cities, Rome. There he learned to love extravagant living and moved in imperial circles, cultivating many valuable friends from among Rome's best families.

The friendships paid off, for when Caligula, his good friend, became emperor, Agrippa was made king over various territories in Judea and Samaria. In addition, he held consular rank in Rome. In his own land he was highly regarded for his Jewish piety and his magnificent building programs.

Behold the tentmaker

Paul also was a Roman citizen, but that was about all they had in common, apart from their Jewish faith. WALL MURAL, painted by Matt Plevyak, and assisted by his wife, Vicki, the former Vicki Teets, of route 1, Accident, on the walls of a hallway at Kimbrough Army hospital, Fort Meade. See accompanying story for details.

Army Pfc. Paints Hospital Mural At Fort Meade

The Maryland Gazette recently carried a feature story relating about an army private first class and his wife Vicki who painted a hospital mural at Fort George G. Meade's Kimbrough Army hospital. What makes the story of interest to Garrett countians is the fact that the wife Vicki is the former Vicki Teets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Teets, route 1, Accident.

Both Vicki and her husband, Matthew Plevyak, native of Scranton, Pa., were classmates at Pittsburgh Art Institute. They are now residing at Laurel. Vicki was active in 4-H club work and is a graduate of Northern High school, Accident. She was a former Farm Queen. Pfc. Plevyak is a veterinary technician.

The story was written by Joel McCord, staff writer for the Gazette. The mural was painted in a hallway leading to the immunization ward of the hospital.

Plevyak wanted to do art in the army but was given no encouragement. Having heard about the hospital beautification program he obtained approval from his commander to do the mural and supplied him with $75 worth of paint and set him to work.

The mural depicts famous scenes, including the State House, Thomas Point Light House, the Constellation and Baltimore's Washington monument.

Plevyak described the drawings in the mural as combinations of abstract, architectural rendering and realism. He said he and Vicki researched the highlights of Baltimore and Annapolis, then worked from a book of A. Aubrey Bodine photographs he found in the post library.

He said he had been subject to some criticism for painting the ship Constellation under full sail.

Starting with white background he painted alternating stripes of different shades of blue, across the wall. Along the bottom is an abstract painting of the Baltimore skyline. The skyline draws the eye to the Washington Monument at the far right of the painting where the stripes lead it back across the Constellation, the Light House, the Wye Oak tree and the State House.

Plevyak said the statehouse was the hardest drawing to do because of the shading and detail work. The only drawing Plevyak didn't do is the tree, and he revealed that Vicki did that. He explained she seemed to be better at trees than he was. He said Vicki also helped in other ways.

Plevyak did each drawing on paper, then transferred it to the wall with carbon paper. He used plastic based paints for each element, then covered the entire mural with polyeurathane to protect it from prying hands and careless cart pushers.

Plevyak has a year to go on tour of duty and says he plans to try to go to another art school to get a bachelor's degree and teach. He studied advertising and commercial art in Pittsburgh.

Plevyaks present rating is SP-4, and 81 I Illustrator instead of Private First Class, Veterinarians assistant.

SHEDDING LIGHT ON ENERGY SHORTAGE

To save both fuel and money, consumers should utilize daylight as much as possible. Use artifical lighting only when necessary— not as decoration. Center bright lights around work areas. Keep bulbs, lamps and lampshades clean. Treat washable shades to an occasional sudsey bath; remove bulbs and clean them and the lamp with a damp cloth.

If you like colored lampshades be sure they are lined with white paper or fabric. This produces more light for reading or close work.

There are four common enemies of good lighting. (1) Shadow this is caused by a solid object coming between the light source and what you are trying to see. The bottom of a lamp shade should always be at eye level. (2) Not enought light-when you are doing close work be sure you use 200 watt incadescent bulbs so your eyes can see properly. (3) Lack of contrast — is the difference between the brightness of what you are trying to see and the brightness of the background.

The greater the difference in brightness, the more contrast you have and the easier it is for you to see. (4) Glare--Glare is raw, irritating light coming from an improperly shaded light bulb. Glare is also caused by light reflected off slick, glossy surfaces such as the pages of a magazine. Light should fall directly on what you are trying to see and not directly into your eyes.

Television viewing—a television screen is designed to be viewed in a lighted room. If you watch television in a room with no light, the strong contrast between the bright screen and the dark surroundings will be very tiring to your eyes.

You should sit at least six feet away and also choose a comfortable chair and sit straight when watching television. Do not sit on the floor and do not sit too close to screen. An added tip: Remind the last person leaving a room to shut off all the lights.

Educating Handicapped Children

Perhaps no concept is as widely accepted by the citizens of our country as is the concept of equality of educational opportunity. If we believe, however, in the basic premise that equal educational opportunities must be provided to all handicapped children, then our Nation is a long way from achieving that most desirable goal.

The crux of the problem faced by handicapped children in the United States is that the programs they need are weakened by inadequate and uncertain funding. The result is that there are not enough special classrooms and specially-trained teachers to provide equal educational opportunities for these children.

The dimensions of the problem are gripping. According to the U.S. Office of Education, there are an estimated seven-million handicapped children in America. Of these, six-million are school-aged and one-million are pre-schoolers. Unfortunately, just about half the school-aged handicapped children are receiving the special education services they need, and virtually none of the one-million pre-schoolers is being served.

In Maryland, only 60 per cent of our handicapped children are receiving proper education services. It is reported that 35 states provide less service than Maryland does.

Courts have ruled in Maryland, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia that more effort and money must be spent by public school systems so that handicapped children are provided equal educational opportunities as guaranteed by the Constitution as well as by local and state regulations.

To make a modest step toward achieving equality of educational opportunity for America's seven-million handicapped children, I introduced an amendment in the Senate to provide $631 million in additional federal funding for this purpose. The funds would be allocated to the states on the basis of total attendance figures. Maryland would receive $12.3 million under my proposal.

Regardless of the ultimate Congressional resolution of the matter this year, we can not afford to rest until action is taken to assure that school systems have the support they need to provide equal educational opportunities to handicapped children. Those opportunities are the children's right and our responsibility.

Twelve Are Killed On State Highways

Twelve persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Sergeant James Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed, five were drivers, and seven were pedestrians. At least two of those deaths could possibly have been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol was a known contributing factor in three of the deaths, speed in seven and "driver error" in eight.

Persons killed through May 19 totaled 211, compared to 326 for the same period last year.

Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks:

I recently read that the Postal Service will deliver mail to trailer parks that do not have such service now. How do we apply?

To apply for mail delivery a mobile home subdivision must have at least 2,500 population or 750 possible delivery stops.

Applications for such service should be sent to the Regional postal area. Ask your local post office for his name and address.

After 30 years in the Coal Mines I retired because of my health. I applied for black lung benefits last January but have heard nothing. Could you please look into this for me?

Upon receipt of your letter my office contacted the Social Security Administration on your behalf. As you are now aware your black lung claim has been approved retroactive to April 1973. Citizens experiencing similar difficulties obtaining government benefits justly due them should feel free to write my office for assistance.

Have the new safety devices built into cars over the past several years significantly reduced traffic fatalities?

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration the death rate per 100 million miles driven has decreased 11½ percent since 1967. Safety devices in cars, innovative highway safety programs and better drivers have all contributed to the decline in fatalities.

Where can I purchase excess map sheets from the National Atlas of the United States?

A price list and description of the National Atlas surplus materials can be obtained by writing to Distributor Section, U. S. Geological Survey, 1200 South Eads Street, Arlington, Virginia 22202.

My daughter draws a VA pension based on her father's death in World War II. If she works during the summer, will her earnings affect her pension?

No. Income earned by a child will not affect this benefit.

Does your office have any information on what to look for when buying a new home?

"Wise Home Buying," a free booklet published by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, may be ordered from Consumer Products Information, Washington, D.C. 20407.

What is the Environmental Quality Corps?

A bill was introduced in the House last year to establish an Environmental Quality Corps as an independent agency within the executive Branch. Under the proposal, Corps volunteers (consisting of 18 to 26 year-olds) would provide manpower for projects designed to better the the environmental quality for all Americans. The bill H. R. 11537, is currently pending before the Education & Labor Committee.

Huskies Defeat Salisbury 7 To 5

Northern catcher Kenny Sines hit a three run homer in the third inning and his fellow Huskies struck for four more runs in the fifth to defeat Salisbury 7-5 last Friday at Salisbury.

Salisbury seemed secure early in the contest by picking up four runs in the first inning. Three of the opening tallies were powered in by a triple slugged by second baseman Randy Dousel.

The Salisbury lead had been trimmed to 4-3 when relief pitcher Tommy Green came on to face the Huskies in a bases loaded situation with none out in the top of the fifth.

Playing for Northern were Teets, Bender, Sines, Humberson, Swauger, Bach, Sines, Frazee, Sisler, Fauber.

THE AMAZING PREDICTIONS OF THE PROPHET HOSEA

Concluded

(excerpt from Hosea 9 and 10 L.B.)

By

Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

Does History Repeat Itself

Because you have deserted God, your harvests will be small and you will suffer shortages of the fruit of the vine. You will live on scraps of food. A day of reckoning is almost here and soon this nation will know it all too well. The righteous will soon be hated, and inspired prophets will be called crazy and mad.

The glory of this nation flies away like a bird. If your children do grow, they will be taken from you. SAD DAYS ARE COMING, WHEN GOD TURNS AWAY FROM THIS NATION. In my vision I have seen our nation doomed. Fathers are forced to lead their sons to slaughter. Their leaders are rebels, and this nation's roots are drying up.

How prosperous this nation has become — but the more wealth God gives her, the more she pours it on the altars of false gods. They are guilty and must be punished. But they will say — "Our leader has been taken from us, but what's the difference — we don't need one anyway." Yet they will mourn over the departed honor of their shattered worldly gods.

I will come against this nation with the armies of other nations to punish it for all the heaped up sins. I have never put her under a heavy yoke before; I have spared her tender neck. But now her days of ease are gone.

(Hosea 11-14) This nation has cultivated wickedness and raised a thriving crop of sin. NOW, YOU WILL DISCOVER YOU HAVE BEEN TRUSTING IN A LIE — BELIEVING THAT MILITARY MIGHT AND GREAT ARMIES CAN MAKE A NATION SAFE.

Therefore the terrors of war shall rise among this people, and your forts will fall. War will swirl through the cities and enemies will crash through their borders.

THE HEART OF GOD CRIES OUT TO THIS NATION — TO HELP IT. How can He give it up? God did not come to destroy. But this nation spends its time chasing the wind — playing a dangerous game. Money is spent and gifts are given to other nations, and in return this nation gets only worthless promises.

God has sent his prophets to warn of impending doom through visions, dreams, and parables. But sin flourishes just the same.

IT USED TO BE THAT WHEN THIS NATION SPOKE, OTHER NATIONS SHOOK WITH FEAR — for it was mighty. But now men go around kissing silver calves. When the inhabitants had eaten well and were prosperous and satisfied, they became proud and forgot God.

OH NATION — IF GOD DESTROYS YOU — WHO WILL TRY TO SAVE YOU? WHERE WILL YOUR LEADERS BE? Her people will be killed by invading armies, her babies dashed to death against the ground, her expectant mothers ripped open with a sword.

OH, NATION — RETURN TO THE LORD, AND GOD'S LOVE WILL KNOW NO BOUNDS. God will cure your idolatry and faithlessness, and His anger will depart forever. God would refresh this nation like the dew from Heaven. This nation could once again blossom forth like a watered garden. GOD WOULD LOOK AFTER IT AND CARE FOR IT. His mercies would never fail.

WHOEVER IS WISE AND INTELLIGENT, LET HIM UNDERSTAND THESE THINGS; LET HIM LISTEN!

Large Construction Job Is Progressing

The largest construction job in the area's history is well under way—the building of the Bloomington dam and the relocation of the Western Maryland railway from Bloomington 12 miles up Backbone mountain.

Altogether the Corps of Army Engineers has under contract $35,208,650 and this is just about half of what the project will take to complete it.

The railroad relocation is under contract to S. J. Groves, and the company is building the right of way and three bridges from Bloomington to the head of the dam. It is 95 percent complete.

The Green Construction company has the remainder of the 12-mile job and is 60 percent complete. The J. C. Defelice company New Haven, Conn., has already dug the outlet works on the Mineral county side of the dam, and is 50 percent complete, and is 50 percent complete.

The Groves link included a bridge that takes the railroad across the North Branch of the Potomac from Beryl, W. Va., to a point just west of Bloomington. Another bridge, across the V-shaped Elk Lick run hollow, is highest in Western Maryland. It stands 170 feet above Elk Lick run, is 750 feet long and cost $2,250,000. The Groves concern sub-contracted this to the American Bridge company and officials of the concern said it was one of the most difficult jobs they have had in many years.

The ruggedness of the steep terrain above the North Branch in this county made the job of transporting the long beams to the bridge site very hard.

Latest contract to be awarded is for work on the valley floor and grouting of the left abutment, a sheer cliff on the Garrett county side. This has been let to B. D. Mott Sons, Inc., Huntington W. Va., at a cost of $798,713. Robert C. Craig, resident engineer for the Corps, said Defelice subcontracted the tunnel job to DiMambro Majestic Associates, Detroit.

Two drilling crews began working from both ends of the 2,092-foot tunnel and came together as anticipated. Since the break through the firm has been lining it with concrete. After it is lined the tunnel will be 16.4 feet in diameter.

The flow of water from the dam downstream into the Potomac, will be controlled by hydraulic valves located on five different levels in the control tower.

Latest contract is a [illegible] spur line off the Western Maryland railway along Three Forks Run into the former Vindex area where some coal land is located. Low bidder was the L. G. Defelice company for $3,248,000.

Work in the dam, spillway and outlet works is scheduled this year. All work on the project will be completed by the fall of 1978.

Southern Rams Trim Piedmont 8-3

Two costly Piedmont errors combined with some good fielding by Southern High's Buddy Ingram sparked the Rams to an 8-3 Potomac Valley conference victory over the Piedmont Lions last Friday afternoon in Piedmont.

Ingram pulled off an unassisted double play with the bases loaded in the second inning, preventing any scoring by the Lions. Ingram, Brady DiSimone, Tom Bosley, Tom Panther, Eddie Panther and Tom Stuck had two hits each for the winners who boosted their PVC record to 8-2.

The Rams were behind by a 3-1 score when they erupted for three runs in the fifth inning on an error and three straight hits. In the sixth they tallied four times. Brady was the winning pitcher with Dawson the loser.

Earns 4 Point Average

Deborah Ann Brady, Kitzmiller, student at Potomac State College, Keyser, planning to study medicine, was one of fourteen students who earned a 4.0 or straight "A" average and a place on the Executive Dean's list for the second semester.

Also earning a place on the dean's list with a 3.7 grade point average or better, was Cheri L. Reed, of Elk Garden.

IN EQUITY NO. 6479
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 10th day of May, 1974, a Bill of Complaint to Quiet Title was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the Complainants, G. & S. Coal Co., Inc., and Mitchell Duckworth, against the Respondents, Unknown Heirs, Devisees, Personal Representatives and Assigns and those claiming by, under or through John R. Kerfoot and Sarah Kerfoot, his wife, and the Unknown Successors in interest, Devisees, Assigns and those claiming by, under or through Fricke Co., dissolved, or any person whose interest may be affected by the subject matter of this proceeding. The Bill of Complaint to Quiet Title alleges that the Complainants and their predecessors in chain of title have been in actual, open, notorious and exclusive possession of the property herein for at least twenty years, that no interest or principal has been paid the Respondents for at least twenty years, and that neither Respondent has asserted a claim, commenced foreclosure proceedings or attempted entry on the premises for at least twenty years. The property that is the subject of these proceedings is described as follows:

All those lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being in Garrett County, Maryland, more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

1 - Beginning at a planted stone standing at the end of the third line of a tract of land known as "The Sportsman's Field," and running with said third line reversed, South 23 degrees West 3.450 feet to a stone pile; thence North 81 degrees 30 minutes East 2,000 feet to a stone pile; thence North 13 degrees East 2,570 feet to a stone pile, thence North 67 degrees 30 minutes West 1,382 feet to the beginning, containing 105 acres, more or less.

2 - Beginning at a stake and stone pile near a white oak tree standing on the West side of the road leading from Mount Zion Church to Chaffee, and running with the meanderings of said road, North 6 degrees 30 minutes East 285 feet; North 12 degrees East 295 feet, North 15 degrees West 254 feet; North 9 degrees 45 minutes West 304 feet; North 3 degrees 30 minutes East 258 feet; North 17 degrees 30 minutes East 232 feet; North 13 degrees 15 minutes East 359 feet to a point in one of Roland Duckworth's lines near Mount Zion Church; thence with said line, South 53 degrees 30 minutes East 1,208 feet; thence North 36 degrees 15 minutes East 165 feet to a road leading to Shaw; thence with said road, South 74 degrees 45 minutes East 553 feet; South 69 degrees East 186 feet; thence leaving road, South 29 degrees West 2,241 feet to one of Claude H. Duckworth's lines, thence with minutes West 1,190 feet to the said line, North 47 degrees 30 beginning, containing 67⅞ acres, more or less.

3 - All that tract or part of a tract of land called "Sandy Spring," containing 63 acres, more or less.

4 - All of the surface of all that parcel of land, it being part of a tract called "Sportsman's Field," containing 150 acres, more or less, and supposed to cover and embrace the parcel of land herein above-mentioned and conveyed in paragraph Three.

5 - All that other piece or parcel of land containing 80 acres, more or less.

That the Complainants are in actual peaceable possession of the land described above, with no action at law or any proceeding in equity being outstanding or pending to test the validity of such title. Said Petitioner is desirous of having title of the property determined so that it will be owned aforesaid in its entirety by the said G. & S. Coal Co., Inc., free and clear of any rights, claims, demands or liens of the Respondents.

The relief prayed for in the Petition to Quiet Title aforesaid is as follows: That an Order of Publication be issued against the Respondents, that a decree issued from this Honorable Court granting the said G. & S. Coal Co. ownership of the property aforesaid, free of liens now of record in favor of the said Respondents, and that an injunction issued against the Respondents against the assertion by them of any liens now of record against the said G. & S. Coal Co.

WHEREUPON, it is ordered by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, this the 10th day of May, 1974, that the Petitioner cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week, in each of the successive weeks before the 7th day of June, 1974, giving notice to all persons living, whether resident or non-resident of the State of Maryland, who may have an interest in the property aforesaid or whose interest may be affected by the subject matter of this proceeding and the substance of this Petition and wanting them to show cause, if any there may be, on or before the 8th day of July, 1974, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

Tick Season Is With Us Again

Ticks carrying Rocky Mountain spotted fever are posing a serious health threat to thousand of Marylanders. Dr. William Pope of the Garrett County Health Office warned today.

Dr. Pope said 11 cases were confirmed in the State last year which were attributable to three species recognized by their large reddish brown or [illegible] body until. The American Dog tick or woodtick is the major carrier for Rocky Mountain spotted fever in Maryland.

Ticks are found in wooded, shrubbed or tall grassy areas which have a high moisture content. Dogs, rabbits, rodents, and other animals roaming these areas are frequently infected with tick. Unless adequately protected children and adults risk infestation by going into such area.

Accordingly, children and adults going into such environments should receive a head-to-toe inspection twice a day. During removal of the tick, care should be taken to avoid crushing it and allowing the head parts to remain in the skin as the disease organism can still spread in and around the puncture site.

The human symptoms of Rocky Mountain spotted fever generally begin within three to ten days after exposure with a sudden onset of headache and fever and chills which may last two weeks.

Two Boys Found In Cave At 3 A.M. Friday

Swanton Boys Exploring In Crabtree Lost Over Six Hours

Two young boys, lost for more than six hours in Crabtree Cave, Maryland's largest and most difficult cave, located near Savage River Dam, were rescued last Friday morning about 3 o'clock by members of Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad and two young cavers.

Rodney Durst, 11, son of Mr and Mrs. Richard Durst, and Ronnie Upperman, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Upperman, apparently decided about 6 p.m. Thursday to explore the cave and set off on a motorbike without telling their parents where they were going.

When they had not returned by 9:30, the parents became concerned and began questioning an older brother of one of the boys who recalled hearing the youths speak of exploring the cave some days before.

The parents drove to the cave and found the bike parked outside, but could not get any answer when they called to the boys.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad was called about 11:30, and before driver Ed Livengood and crew chief David

County To Get Transit System In Near Future

Garrett County will soon have a county-wide transit system, according to Don Bender, President of the Commission on Aging.

Approval of $65 thousand dollars for the purchase of three 17-passengers buses was received last week from the Maryland Department of Transporation and represents initial funding for a pilot rural transporation system in this County.

"In the very near future we will have a ronte bus system to and from Grantsville, Oakland, Friendsville, and other parts of the county," Bender said.

"Ninety-five [illegible] of the cost is assumed by the Maryland Department of Transportation and 5 percent by the County through the County Commissioners. Of the $65 thousand, $20 thousand operating expense will come from Applachian Regional Commission and the Work Incentive program will provide funding for bus drivers," Bender explained.

Bender also announced the results of a survey completed in November by the Commission on Aging.

"According to our survey 81 percent of the residents polled favor a transit system," Bender said. "Many of our citizens have no means of transporation. Although the elderly will benefit from lower rates, the transit system will benefit virtually all segments of our county."

Man Hospitalized As Rig Overturns On U.S. Route 50

A Westernport man was hospitalized when his rig overturned on U.S. Route 50 in West Virginia just west of the Maryland State Line Tuesday morning.

Carl L. Robertson, 40, was listed in satisfactory condition yesterday at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he had been taken by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad following the accident. He was reported to have neck injuries, cuts and bruises due to being thrown from the vehicle. The rig was called a total loss.

According to the Preston County Sheriff's office, Robertson was traveling west on Rt. 50 when the wheels of the trailer went off the hard road onto some gravel. This threw the rig out of control and both tractor and trailer went over on their sides and then overturned about 10:20 a.m.

The load of wood which he was carrying was reloaded on another truck and taken on its way. The rig belonged to John Miller of Barton.

Deputy Richard Roberson of the Preston County Sheriff's office investigated the mishap. He made no citations. Tfc. L. R. Rosage of the Maryland State Police was on the scene but made no report due to the incident being in West Virginia.

District 9 Now Officially "Finzel"

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Elections for the county held on May 23, the name of election district number 9 was officially changed from Johnson to Finzel by unanimous decision.

The request to change the name had come orginally from the Route 40 Homemakers club. The request had been made due to the confusion of locations of the districts on the county map. Election district No. 9 appears on the map as Finzel.

The history of why the district was called Johnson was cited by the club. The board revealed it was orginally called "Johnson" because the polling place was located in the Johnson home. The Johnson family no longer resides in election district No. 9 or owns the home.

Boats Sideswipe Saturday Night At Deep Creek Bridge

Two boats sideswiped about 10:30 p.m. Saturday night in the vicinity of Deep Creek Bridge, causing an estimated $2,000 damage to one of the boats.

Raymond L. Carazzo, Monroeville, was traveling toward Johnny's Bait House when he collided with another boat.

After Carazzo had recovered from the impact of the collision, he went to the Bait House and the sheriff's department was called. They in turn notified Cpl. Harry Miller of the Natural Resource Police force, who came to investigate.

Mr. Carazzo and passengers, who were uninjured but considerably shaken up by the mishap, felt sure that the other boat must have sunk, since no trace could be seen.

Cpl. Miller searched the area until 1 p.m., but gave it up when no traces of debris or any other indications that a boat had gone down could be found.

On Sunday, he found the operator of the second boat, Darwin W. Schumman, Monongahela, Pa. and is continuing his investigation into the causes of the accident.

No charges have been filed as yet.

State Board Ruling Changed by Court

In an opinion of Tuesday May 28 the Circuit Court for Garrett County, ruled that the termination of the teaching contract of Virginia J. Halsey be affirmed. Mrs. Halsey's contract as a non-tenured teacher had been terminated by the local Board in June of 1972. Through her MSTA counsel, Susan Russell, she had appealed the decision to the State Board of Education on the grounds that the Garrett County Board of Education was arbitrary and capricious in its action.

The Maryland State Board of Education ruled that the Garrett Board was not arbitrary and capricious but exercised its visitatorial powers under Article 77 Section 6 and ordered the local Board to reissue a new contract beginning a second probationary period.

Esquire Walter S. Levine, Susan Russell, and W. Dwight Stover represented the Petitioner, the Maryland State Board of Education was represented by Malcolm Kitt, and the Board of Education of Garrett County was represented by Ralph M. Burnett.

This decision by Judge Stuart F. Hamill followed a reversal of State Board Opinion in the case of a non-tenured teacher in Carroll County heard before Judge Weant.

Vacant Barn At Deer Park Burns

A vacant barn on the Salem Broadwater farm about one mile east of Deer Park along Route 135 was destroyed by fire Tuesday night.

Deer Park firemen responded with nearly a full crew and two pumpers to the scene, but the fire was too far advanced by the time they arrived and the structure was a total loss.

Arson has been mentioned as a cause of the fire, as the building was not in use at present, but no definite report has yet been made

No damage estimate was given in the firemen's report, since the barn was in a poor state of repair. No machinery or livestock was housed in the building, and the only other loss was to hay and straw which was stored there.

The fire was first noticed by a Maryland State Policeman returning home from his tour of duty. Mrs. Broadwater lives on the farm since the death of her husband several years ago.

Oakland firemen were called for an assist but the call was cancelled before they left, as the barn was already gutted.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

May 27 1974

Dear Sir:

Your paper is to be highly commended for Mr. Ridder's articles on junked cars. A truly free press speaks out on public problems knowing that toes will be stepped on.

The second article concludes with a call for public support to compel enforcement of state and county laws controlling junked car yards "... enforcement won't happen unless public opinion warrants it." That is true, but I wonder if Mr. Ridder realizes the full implications of that statement. It means that certain state and county officials will not do their duty unless compelled by the public to do their duty. That would appear to be true, sadly true. All governmental officials are just as much under obligation to enforce all laws as citizens are to obey them.

It would appear that the laws covering junked car yards have lain dormant for six years. Enforcement would have compelled the owners to spend some money. Haven't they enjoyed a hidden subsidy?

There is wide-spread cynicism about governmental responsiveness to public needs. I do not wish to contribute to that cynicism. Please be assured that for each letter or phone call you receive supporting you regarding the junked cars issue there are many hundreds who feel the same way.

J. B. Bowen
Mountain Lake Park

Dear Sir:

In reference to the article on junked cars, etc. What of the litter along the county and state highways? Every morning I have to pick up trash. I get tired of cleaning up everyone's cans, bottles and junk. Some of this blows off the trucks.

Why not enforce the laws we have? Including speeders on county roads.

Lt. Gen. C. E. Hutchin, Jr., Cole crusade chairman, was the speaker, telling those present the value of their volunteer work for the campaign. He noted that the goal of the Cancer Society is to effect cures on one out of every two afflicted with cancer, rather than the one in five now cured.

Mrs. Ann Hines, regional manager of Weight Watchers, Inc., presented a check for $79.89 to Mr. Englander for the Cancer crusade representing a penny a pound for each Garrett County Weight Watcher member's weight when joining the organization. There are two groups of Weight Watchers in the county, one at Oakland and one at McHenry.

Lt. Gen. Hutchins presented awards to volunteers for outstanding service during the crusade. Mrs. John O. Durst, Oakland, and Mrs. Vernon Reichenbecher, Accident, were presented with engraved silver trays. Mrs. Durst is southern chairman and Mrs. Reichenbecher northern chairman for the county drive.

Those not present to receive their awards will get them in the mail, according to Mrs. Durst.

Two Boys Found

Evans left, the squad coordinator contracted Mark and Jim Ashby, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Harold C. Ashby, who are well acquainted with Crabtree and other area cave.

The squad arrived at the cave and began searching about 1 a.m. A search through the right corridor failed to turn up evidence of the lost boys so Mark then took a connecting passage to the left corridor while Jim returned with the fathers to the entrance. Jim then began a hunt of the left corridor, checking out the lower level. When he approached the connecting passage he heard voices and came upon his brotner Mark, who had found the two thoroughly cold, wet, frightened and grateful boys, who had been quietly waiting for someone or anyone, to come to their rescue.

The boys had one flashlight and it was still producing a dim light.

The boys returned to the entrance and to the arms of their parents about 3 a.m. Although not much the worse for their adventure, they were described as "highly nervous" the next day by Mrs. Durst, who also confessed that she had aged ten year during the night.

Jim Ashby is an associate member of SGCRS and both he and Mark are members of the National Ski Patrol.

Crabtree Cave, located on the north end of Backbone Mountain west of Savage River Dam takes 6 to 10 hours for competent and thin spelunkers to explore, according to a Maryland Geological Survey on the 13 caves in the state. Besides being heavily fissured, the cave is littered with much debris, and also has tight crawl spaces, many streams, 15-foot ledges, a 50-foot drop, and hundreds of pack rats . . . making material for young boys' nightmares for many nights to come.

Several Injured In Friendsville Area Accidents

A Saturday afternoon accident in Friendsville injured four persons, but all were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Two other mishaps occurred in the area, with several injured.

Elwood Lee Coddington, of Gravel Hill Road, Friendsville, operator of the car, and his three passengers: Richard Lee Clark, Kingman, Maine; Gary Hoover, RD 2, Accident; and Michael W. McCorty, Friendsville, were the injured.

Coddington was driving on Second Street and lost control of his vehicle on a curve. The car skidded to the left, then back to the right side, struck an embankment and overturned.

Trooper Ronald C. Georg charged Coddington with operating at excess speed in the 3 p.m. mishap.

In a two-car accident about 2 miles east of Friendsville the morning before, another four persons were apparently only slightly injured.

Timothy Gene Frazee, Friendsville, and his passenger, Barry Frazee, also of Friendsville, were traveling east on the Accident-Bear Creek Road while Gordon Allen Brinegar was traveling west, with his passenger, Robert Brinegar, both of Grantsville. Brinegar crossed the center line of the road and hit the Frazee car in the left fender. Both came to rest in the eastbound lane.

Trooper Dale K. Williams charged Brinegar on two counts: failing to keep to the right side of the road and operating an unsafe vehicle.

Another mishap on the same road, about the same location, the Monday before, injured two persons.

Ronald Eugene Teats, operator of the car, and one of two passengers, Albert Mark Fauher, both of Friendsville, were apparently only slightly injured. Teats driving on the Accident-Bear Creek Road lost control of his vehicle on a curve and the results being much the same as in the Coddington accident.

Turkey Season Is Best In Four Years

Maryland's fourth Spring Bearded Turkey Season was the most successful yet as hunters across the state harvested 119 of the wary birds, the Wildlife Administration has announced. This was an increase of 20 birds over the previous high, 99, in 1973.

Even the archers got into the act. One hunter reported bagging a nice gobbler with a bow and arrow in Allegany County.

Garrett County hunters scored the biggest increase. They took 22 birds, more than double last year's total of 10. Allegany County, as usual, had the largest total, 50, up two from last year's score.

Other counties reporting increases were Frederick, 9, an increase of 2, Montgomery, 14, up 2; Harford, 15, up 2, and Washington, 9, up 2. Only Dorchester showed a decrease. There were 2 birds killed there last year, but no Dorchester County hunter scored this season.

Comparative totals by counties of the four Turkey Seasons: Garrett, 1971, 2, 1972, 6, 1973, 10; 1974, 22.

Our Heritage As a Fashion Influence

This year's fashion silhouettes are not changing drastically hut fabrics are making headlines with dimension, unprecedented variety and versatility.

These new fabrics are the unifying force that link markets in the fashion world.

And, while our design inspiration is historic, we've definitely moved out of the costume age. The fashions are structured to fit our active way of life American history has become a creative force for ourselves and others around the world as we've assumed global leadership in fashion.

In this year of shortages, we've used our fashion ingenuity to provide the look of yesterday with the convenience of today.

Our revived interest in America's past shows up in a new, surprising and refreshing way.

HOYES

The Homemakers will meet Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Charley Browning at 10 o'clock, to go on the trip planned.

How to Control Health Care Costs

With federal cooperation that I shall seek, Maryland has an opportunity to provide a national model for state regulation of hospital costs without endangering the quality of hospital care.

As health care costs continue to soar, this is a matter of importance to all Marylanders. We must find a way to control costs and still provide the finest medical attention to anyone who needs it.

Maryland's Hospital Cost Review Commission -one of only two such state units in the country- will assume rate-setting authority over Maryland's hospitals on July 1.

Through legislation enacted two years ago, the federal government is permitted to participate experimentally in such state programs by having Medicare pay the rates set by the state commission. That is a key to the success of the state regulatory effort.

Some federal money has come to the Commission, but no commitment for federal participation has been made. I am going to seek that commitment, because Maryland's hospitals, and the Commission itself, deserve to have federal participation in this national laboratory for state regulation of health care costs.

That is just one approach -but a good one- to the problem of soaring health care costs. Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar Weinberger has predicted a 20 per cent overall increase in medical and hospital costs before the end of this year.

It goes without warning that harsh and permanent federal controls may be in order if the cost increase reaches that predicted level. Maryland stands virtually alone in having a mechanism -the Review Commission -that can become a publicly acceptable health cost control device.

Meanwhile, Congress and the Administration are considering three major national health insurance proposals. The country needs a comprehensive national health insurance plan, and we need it this year.

We have now reached the point at which intransigence must give way to conciliation and compromise. I think it is time for all parties to stop shouting at each other from opposite ends of Pennsylvania Avenue or across witness tables.

A better and more productive way is for the proponents to meet in one room as peers and persons of good-will and agree on one plan that can win the support of providers and consumers alike.

I believe that can happen this year.

Your views on the subject of this week's column are valued. Please write me at 460 Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Music In The Air For a Long Time

A FAVORITE POSITION—Mrs. Donald Sincell assumes a favorite position at the organ in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, following the congregational tribute to her with a special service of music. Atop the organ is the model pipe organ made by George Scheffel in his machine shop which was presented to her on Sunday.

A congregational tribute to Mrs. Donald R. Sincell for fifty years of service as an organist for St. Mark's Lutheran Church was observed at the regular morning worship last Sunday at the church, with a special service of music. Approximately 225 persons attended.

Mrs. Sincell, born in Philadelphia as Elsie Louise Hanst, daughter of the late Henry and Rose Faber Hanst, moved to Kingwood in 1905 with her parents where she became a member of the Presbyterian church. At age eleven she began playing the organ in the church there. She had received lessons from Mrs. Jim Dailey, of Kingwood, and Miss Mabel Marsden, of Albright.

Following graduation from Kingwood High School she continued her music education at Maryland College for Women, at Lutherville, a college no longer in existence. She moved to Oakland in 1920, became a member of St. Mark's, and began to relieve Mrs. May Loraditch from time to time at the organ. She gradually fell into a full time job which continues to this day.

Mrs. Sincell still takes her turn at the organ, adding materially to these worship services.

Organist Sunday was Miss Kim Liller. The program included a flute solo by Mrs. Marjorie Clever, for the prelude; several anthems by the choir, numerous hymns, and a woodwind ensemble for the postlude. Trumpet accompaniment to one anthem was by Pastor Richard Seaks and Rick Thayer. Pastor Seaks also provided a trumpet solo during the offering. Also participating were Rev. Wm. Ernest Fox, retired, former pastor, as liturgist; "Magic with a Heavenly Touch," by Ben Sincell, a grandson; remarks by Pastor Seaks, Mrs. Nancy Turney, choir director; Mrs. Robert Hesen, Timonium, a daughter; Kim Liller and Mary Mattingly, assistant organists; and Mrs. S. R. Pagenhardt, head of the planning committee. Letters from former pastors were read by Dr. Jack Liller, plus a tribute by Pastor Fox. A model pipe-organ was presented to the honoree, made by George Scheffel in his machine shop. The award was presented by her son, Robert B. Sincell.

ert B. Sincell. A brass plaque was presented Mrs. Sincell by Mrs. Sue Pagenhardt for a Trumpet Stop to be placed on the organ, inher honor, when the new church is built.

Following the service, a reception to honor Mrs. Sincell and her husband was held in the Assembly room, organized by the Lutheran Church Women. A special cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Margaret Sanders.

A special bulletin board was prepared by Mrs. Robert Ruckert, and Chuck Trautwein, the former a sister of Mr. Sincell.

Number Of Minor Accidents Occur

A number of relatively minor motor vehicle accidents occurred around the county from Thursday through Sunday. Two were on parking lots.

The car of Phil's Home Owner Supplies, Parsons, W. Va., and Daniel F. Haywood, Charleroi, Pa., were parked on the lot of Super Dollar, just north of Oakland Sunday afternoon. Philip J. Haddix, operator of the 'Supplies' car had parked just prior to the collision without placing the parking lever or drawing the parking brake. The car then moved forward and collided with the Haywood car. Trooper C. H. Hinnant investigated the mishap.

Another parking lot collision happened on Bill's Marine Service lot off Glendale Road Saturday afternoon.

Cindy M. Reynolds, Johnstown, Pa., had parked and was sitting behind the wheel. Philip A. Rentz, Center Street, Oakland, driving across a grass field, failed to reduce speed and collided with the Reynolds car.

Trooper Hinnant charged Rentz with driving while intoxicated.

About two hours before the above accident, William T. Newman, Greensburg, Pa., was driving south on U.S. Route 219 just north of the Oakland town limit. Grace M. Field, RD 2, Oakland, traveling north, attempted to make a left turn into a driveway, did not see the Newman car in the southbound lane and hit it. Tfc. Lawrence R. Rosage charged Grace Field with failing to grant the right-of-way when making a left turn.

Kenneth M. Bishop, Frostburg, was driving west on the Mosser Road a half mile east of Bumble Bee Road in the McHenry area last Friday just before noon. He failed to negotiate a sharp left angle turn. His vehicle went out of control, crossed the road, hit a block incinerator, a telephone pole and a block wall. Trooper J. E. Foley charged Bishop with operating at a speed greater than reasonable and prudent.

Judy C. Wiland, RD 1, Lonaconing, was driving west on U. S. Route 40, just east of Green Lantern Road late last Thursday. An unidentified vehicle, going east, crossed the center line on a curve, hit the mirror and broke the door glass of the Wiland truck. Trooper R. C. George investigated the mishap.

Mountain Top Gets Soaking This Week

Rains soaked the Mountain Top during the past week with some light frost Tuesday morning. Thunder storms drenched the area with more rain.

Intermittant showers and partly cloudy skies continued from last Thursday through Friday. Skies were mostly cloudy Saturday becoming cloudy Sunday with light to moderate breezes both days. Skies became clear late Monday and remained so Tuesday until about noon when clouds began to gather. Rain started after dark Tuesday. There were heavy showers most of yesterday dumping about one inch of rain with brisk breezes at times. The Thursday and Friday showers produced .57 inch of rain with a trace Saturday. Last evening's heavy thunder storms dropped another .8 inch of rain with much electrical activity.

Tuesday morning was chilly with a light frost when the mercury stood at just freezing, 32 degrees. The week's temperatures were just about normal with the daytime readings averaging 66.5 degrees or 3.8 below normal. Nighttime readings evened out the readings to be near normal with an average of 46.3 degrees or three degrees above the normal. The warmest day was last Thursday with 73 dgrees with other days heing around the 60-degree mark.

Town Plans Use Of Revenue Sharing Funds This Year

The town of Oakland plans to spend the anticipated $25,161 in general revenue sharing funds allocated to it for the year ending June 30, 1975, on three items and projects, it was announced by Mayor H. D. Swratzentruber.

Street department capital expenditures will amount to $10,000; Water department capital expenditures, $4,500, and street operating maintenance, $10,661.

The mayor said the funds would prevent enacting a new major tax and prevent an increase in the property tax rate.

A complete copy of the report the town is required to submit to the U.S. Treasury department office of revenue sharing about these plans appears in The Republican today. Records documenting the plans are open for public inspection at City Hall. Public notice and availability of revenue sharing expenditure plans are required by state and local fiscal assistance act of 1972.

Citizens or groups wishing to express views about the proposed expenditures may contact the mayor or plan to attend next council meeting on June 3.

General revenue sharing is a $30.2 billion, five-year program which returns a portion of federal taxes to state and local governments. Thus far Oakland has received $80,479 from the program.

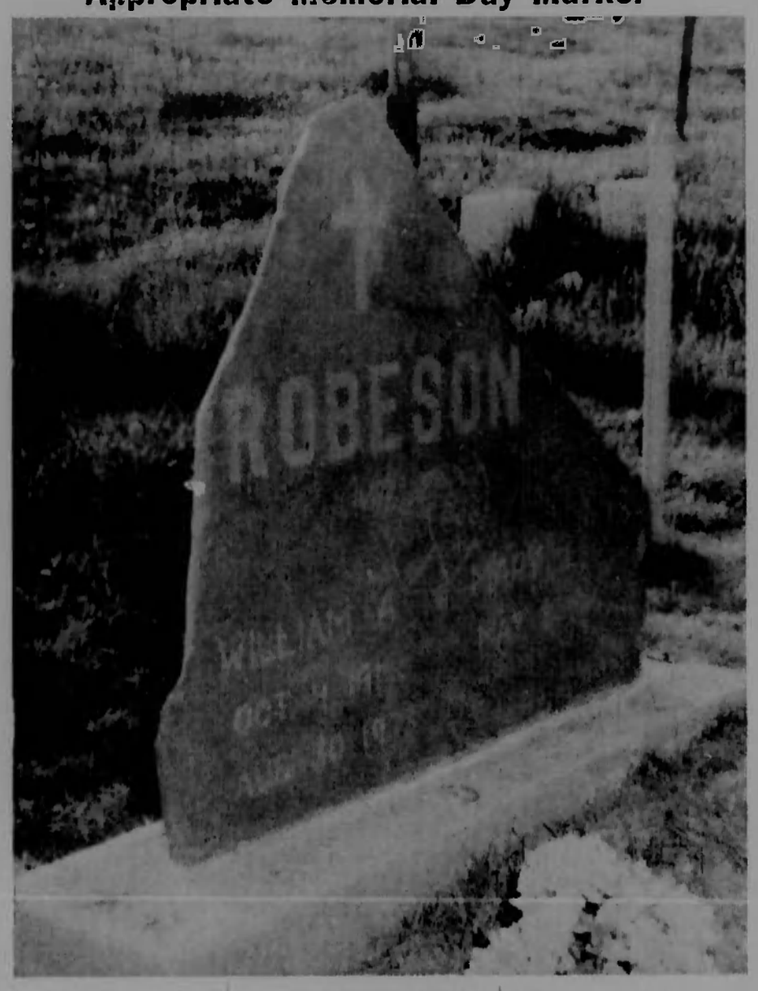
Appropriate Memorial Day Marker



The grave of William A. Robeson, of near Avilton, has been appropriately marked for Memorial Day, 1974. Mr. Robeson died on August 30, 1973.

An unusual headstone was placed in the Robeson family cemetery just last Saturday, May 19.

The story of the stone, as indicated from the photograph, is a unique one. Weighing over four hundred pounds the stone was plowed up on the Robeson farm by "Willie" who farmed and worked the land for many years. He plowed over and through the many rocks in the fields. Some rocks he had to move like the large stone, now the gravestone, which he brought down by the Robeson house where it was used as a step in front of the farm gate for twenty years. It was then moved to the patio where it remained for a couple of years more.

Following his death in 1973 his wife, Mary L "Boots" Bittinger Robeson who still resides on the farm thought of having it as a grave stone. The carving was done by a friend, John Droder, of Akron, Ohio.

Willie's family and friends moved the big stone back on the hill above the farm house to its present resting place. It was placed in concrete and erected just a few days ago with a carved cross, the family name "Robeson," with his name and his wife's name, the date of his birth and death, and his wife's name and birth date.

His great grandparents homesteaded there originally and William lived there all his life. The farm is in the Pea Ridge area where on a high ridge is erected a navigational dome which is a guide for airplanes. This guide was erected some twenty-five years or more ago.

Mr. Droder, who did the carving said, "We pray God be with him, for we are proud he was with us. Rest in Peace, William Robeson."

It is a lasting marker to his memory.

Potomac Edison Estimates Adequate Power For Summer

The Potomac Edison power has indicated it should have adequate power during the summer to meet the electrical demands of all of its customers.

Allegheny Power system, of which PE is a part, has an installed generating capacity 30 percent higher than the forecasted summer load.

APS indicated it currently had about a 70-day supply of coal, the fuel used for more than 90 percent of its generation, at its major stations. Cost of this fuel has increased significantly during the past year.

The system is continuing to urge its customers to conserve electricity during the summer, by keeping air conditioning thermostat settings at 78 to 80 degrees, turning off all unnecessary lights and appliances and adopting other conservation techniques.

A Federal Power commission study has indicated an overall generating reserve deficiency of 27 percent for utilities in the east central area of the country if standards stemming from the Clear Air Act go into effect July 1, 1975, as scheduled. This deficiency could have serious consequences for the area and the country, the APS pointed out. APS has joined other utilities in urging amendments to the Clear Air Act to delay the compliance date.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

BEYOND WORDS

Lesson for June 2, 1974

Background Scripture: 1 Thessalonians 1.
Devotional Reading: 1 Peter 1:13-25.

Recently I was in a seminar where Keith Miller, author of a number of books on Christian life and witness, asked the group to think of someone, apart from their family, who had first helped them experience Christian love.

Rev. Althouse

None of the people named by the group had said anything about love, although all of them had demonstrated it by what they did with acts of kindness, compassion, helpfulness, and understanding.

Miller then indicated that if he had asked the group to tell him the meaning of Christian love, they probably would have responded with definitions and doctrinal statements that, for all their correctness, would not have communicated much about the real power of Christian love. For the most part, he demonstrated, love is something you do, something that goes far beyond words.

But also in power

This is always true of the gospel. We can attempt to define it and describe it with words—often eloquent words—but it is best demonstrated by action. Jesus had a brilliant message, but his message would have been unheeded had it not been that his own life validated that message. He not only had a message, Jesus was the message. There was nothing that he asked of men that he did not demonstrate in his own life.

The Apostle Paul also knew that the power of the gospel was in the action that went beyond words alone. In his first epistle to the church at Thessalonica, Paul reminded his readers that they had been won, not just by his words alone, but by the power of the gospel he lived in their presence. Remembering his stay with them, he said: "... for our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power ..." (1:5). The proof of their preaching was in their own lives: "You know what kind of men we proved to be among you for your sake" (1:5b).

We need not say anything

As Paul and his co-workers had brought the gospel to Thessalonica by a power that went beyond words, so the people of that city received it in the same way. Although persecuted, the new followers of Christ in Thessalonica were seen to possess a strange and compelling joy. Despite hardship, they showed what it meant to serve Christ and followers of the Lord were inspired by their example. As Paul reminds them, "... you became an example to all the believers in Macedonia and Achaia (1:7).

Best of all, their example was so compelling that Paul knew that it was more successful than his preaching: "... but your faith in God has gone everywhere, so that we need not say anything" (1:8). That is the possible kind of witness and evangelism. Anyone and everyone can do that kind of witnessing for Jesus Christ—demonstrating the gospel with a power that goes beyond word.

In a small Georgia City called Etowah the people of a mysterious society built mounds which still remain today after ten to twenty thousand years. Why these mounds were built and the fate of these men is unknown. They are referred to only as the "Mound Builders."

We often wonder what mark our society will leave on this planet. Will the true potential of modern man be realized? One thing is for certain, the full potential of an individual can never be realized if he is not in good health. You can assure yourself of better health by having a yearly check-up.

A Story Worth Retelling

By Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

About thirty years ago Edwin Balmer and Philip Wylie wrote a remarkable novel of science fiction, entitled WHEN WORLDS COLLIDE. In this novel the astronomers discovered first, and then there gradually became increasingly visible to the naked eye, an errant planet from outer space. This planet was on such a course as to make its ultimate collision with earth, and resultant complete destruction of the earth, an absolute certainty. But the inhabitants of the earth acted like a bird hypnotized by a snake. THEY COULD SEE THEIR DOOM APPROACHING, KNEW THAT IT WAS INEVITABLE, WRUNG THEIR HANDS IN HORROR — AND SCREAMED RIDICULE AND HATRED AT THE VERY FEW LEADERS AMONG THEM WHO WERE DETERMINED TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT.

These leaders believed that man already had enough scientific knowledge to construct the means of shipping a colony off to another planet somewhere in space, with such provision of food, heat, and oxygen as to maintain the colony in transit and on arrival until human life could adjust itself on the new planet and take hold again. The problem was to do through a crash program, in the several months that remained before the onrushing planet arrived, what might normally take a hundred years to accomplish; in utilizing scientific knowledge to produce in practice the best means for space travel that theory said was possible. And of course to that end money, gigantic sums of money, were vitally necessary. But the money, the knowledge, and the leadership were all mustered in time.

This is only fiction, remember, and our present interest in it is simply to illustrate a point. For during the last week before the new spaceship was to take off, just ahead of the collision now so imminent that nobody could doubt it, and when terror and despair were sweeping over all mankind, some very rich men, who had never been willing to help at all towards the production of the spaceship, began showing up at the launching site, offering millions of dollars to be included in the colony that was to depart. When these offers were necessarily turned down, the rich men increased the number of millions which they were offering, and even tendered these huge sums in cash to make the offers sufficiently attractive. THEY JUST COULD NOT GET IT THROUGH THEIR HEADS THAT MONEY, OR EVEN PROPERTY, NO LONGER HAD THE SLIGHTEST VALUE. They had been utterly unwilling to use money for this same purpose when it did have value. And we hope that a word — well, two or three hundred words in this instance — to the wise is sufficient.

IN EQUITY NO. 6479

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 10th day of May, 1974, a Bill of Complaint to Quiet Title was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the Complainants, G. & S. Coal Co., Inc., and Mitchell Duckworth, against the Respondents, Unknown Heirs, Devisees, Personal Representatives and Assigns and those claiming by, under or through John R. Kerfoot and Sarah Kerfoot, his wife, and the Unknown Successors in interest, Devisees, Assigns and those claiming by, under or through Fricke Co., dissolved, or any person whose interest may be affected by the subject matter of this proceeding. The Bill of Complaint to Quiet Title alleges that the Complainants and their predecessors in chain of title have been in actual, open, notorious and exclusive possession of the property herein for at least twenty years, that no interest or principal has been paid the Respondents for at least twenty years, and that neither Respondent has asserted a claim, commenced foreclosure proceedings or attempted entry on the premises for at least twenty years. The property that is the subject of these proceedings is described as follows:

All those lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being in Garrett County, Maryland, more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

1 - Beginning at a planted stone standing at the end of the third line of a tract of land known as "The Sportsman's Field," and running with said third line reversed, South 2° degrees West 3,450 feet to a stone pile, thence North 87 degrees 30 minutes East 2,000 feet to a stone pile; thence North 13 degrees East 2,570 feet to a stone pile; thence North 67 degrees 30 minutes West 1,282 feet to the beginning, containing 105 acres, more or less.

2 - Beginning at a stake and stone pile near a white oak tree standing on the West side of the road leading from Mount Zion Church to Chaffee, and running with the meanderings of said road, North 6 degrees 30 minutes East 285 feet; North 12 degrees East 290 feet; North 15 degrees West 254 feet; North 9 degrees 45 minutes West 304 feet; North 3 degrees 30 minutes East 258 feet; North 17 degrees 30 minutes East 232 feet; North 13 degrees 15 minutes East 359 feet to a point in one of Roland Duckworth's lines near Mount Zion Church; thence with said line, South 53 degrees 30 minutes East 1,208 feet, thence North 36 degrees 15 minutes East 165 feet to a road leading to Shaw; thence with said road, South 74 degrees 45 minutes East 553 feet; South 69 degrees East 186 feet; thence leaving road, South 29 degrees West 2,241 feet to one of Claude H. Duckworth's lines; thence with minutes West 1,190 feet to the said line, North 47 degrees 30 beginning, containing 67½ acres, more or less.

3 - All that tract or part of a tract of land called "Sandy Spring" containing 63 acres, more or less.

4 - All of the surface of all that parcel of land, it being part of a tract called "Sportsman's Field," containing 150 acres, more or less, and supposed to cover and embrace the parcel of land herein above-mentioned and conveyed in paragraph Three.

5 - All that other piece or parcel of land containing 80 acres, more or less.

That the Complainants are in actual peaceable possession of the land described above, with no action at law or any proceeding in equity being outstanding or pending to test the validity of such title. Said Petitioner is desirous of having title of the property determined so that it will be owned aforesaid in its entirety by the said G. & S. Coal Co., Inc., free and clear of any rights, claims, demands or liens of the Respondents.

The relief prayed for in the Petition to Quiet Title aforesaid is as follows: That an Order of Publication be issued against the Respondents, that a decree issued from this Honorable Court granting the said G. & S. Coal Co. ownership of the property aforesaid, free of liens now of record in favor of the said Respondents, and that an injunction issued against the Respondents against the assertion by them of any liens now of record against the said G. & S. Coal Co.

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as an open forum or comment on whatever other vehicle to keep in touch happens to be on your mind. with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues of the day, to assist you with your problems, request information or opinions on matters of interest to you. Letters should be sent to me c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited in printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks:

Will you be holding another Law Enforcement Conference this summer?

Yes. I am currently planning a July meeting with Central & Western Maryland law enforcement officials to discuss the availability of State and Federal funds for pertinent law enforcement programs.

The conference will include an analysis of federal and state programs and a discussion of local needs and requirements. Specific details will be announced early next month.

I understand that, under law, I can check my credit rating. How does this work?

Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act you can discover your credit rating, dispute any wrong information and remove the incorrect information from your rating report. For full details on your rights I suggest you order a copy of booklet #046A "Fair Credit Reporting Act" from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

How do I apply for an academy appointment?

From now until October 20th I will be accepting applications for appointments to the United States Service Academies for the classes entering in July 1975. Nominations are open to the Naval Academy, Military Academy, Air Force Academy and the Merchant Marine Academy. Applicants should be single residents of the 6th Congressional District in good health, possess a good academic background and not be younger than 17 or older than 21 on July 1, 1975. Interested candidates should write me care of the U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. Applications will be sent to prospective nominees who will later be subject to written and physical examinations and an interview by my Academy Selection Board.

What is the status of the Policeman's Bill of Rights?

The proposed legislation to recognize and protect the civil rights of police officers, has received support from over 100 Congressmen and a host of law enforcement organizations and hearings have been held by the Judiciary Committee.

When will you be visiting our community again?

Summer visits are currently being scheduled for Gapland, Keedysville, St. James, Halfway, Big Spring, Detour, Middleburg, Union Bridge, Union Mills, Patapsco, Corriganville, Mt. Savage, Eckhart Mines, Bittinger, Oakland, Gorman, Pinto, Spring Gap, Oldtown, Little Orleans, Braddock Heights, Middletown, Rohrersville, Burkittsville, Jefferson, Adamstown, Damascus, Woodbine, Conksville, Glenelg, Highland, Fulton, Westminster, Hagerstown, Cumberland and Frederick. Exact times and dates will be published in one of my upcoming newsletters.

How did you vote in Congress on last week's legislation to increase the federal debt limit?

I voted against increasing the federal debt limit ceiling to $495 billion from $475 billion. The bill, however, passed the House 191-190.

It seems to me that the fuel shortages have highlighted the fact that our Nation's resources are not inexhaustible. Yet everyday, consumers throw away valuable resources in their trash cans. How about telling citizens where they can find information on the importance of recycling?

A new publication from Environmental Protection Agency suggests what consumers can do about recycling household wastes. You may order a free copy of "Recycling and the Consumer" by writing Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

What is the status of National Health Insurance legislation?

Hearings on National Health Insurance are now underway before the House Ways & Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee.

Could you please explain Medicare?

A worker and his wife can get Medicare at 65, even if one or both continues to work full-time. Medicare hospital insurance helps pay for inpatient hospital care and for certain followup care. Medical insurance helps pay the cost of doctors' services and many other medical items and services. Medicare is now available also to people under 65 who have been getting Social Security disability checks at least 24 consecutive months, and to insured workers under 65 or members of their family who have severe kidney disease and need dialysis or kidney transplants. When you become eligible for a Social Security check you have hospital insurance automatically at 65 and pay no premiums. People who are not eligible for a Social Security check at 65 need credit for some work under Social Security or they can get hospital insurance at 65 by paying a premium ($36 a month effective July, 1974). To get medical insurance, eligible people pay a premium ($6.70 a month beginning July 1, 1974). This premium is never more than half the cost of the insurance and the balance is paid by the Federal government. Specific information on this subject is available from your local Social Security office.

use some $200,000 held in reserve since the time Willard Hawkins was superintendent of schools.

Mr. Hamilton said, "This amount held in reserve is costing the taxpayer 16 cents per $100 of assessed valuation and in these times of inflation is a luxury. If we do not use this money it may force a tax increase which is not necessary with this reserve fund."

He added that Dr. William Buser and Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, along with school members Robert Diehl, Diane Thayer, William Goldsborough and Paul Mateer, objected to this procedure, declaring that the reserve fund was needed to protect the local school board in case state or federal funds were delayed or not received by the county.

The board and commissioners are to meet once more to finalize their budget next week.

In other budget matters the commissioners still have to determine where revenue sharing funds will be used during fiscal 1975. Mr. Hamilton said the county is anticipating of $598,000 in revenue sharing funds. With new tax dollars amounting to an additional $919,000 of local money, the county will be able to withstand the inflationary pressures.

Mrs. Grant recalled a number of club activities. Organized in 1911 Mrs. R. E. Sliger was first president. Trash collection and construction of a wall around the cemetery gates were among first projects. During World War years the club recessed to sew for the Red Cross, meeting in the court house. A clinic for crippled children was initiated after the polio epidemic with Dr. Bennett, Baltimore, in charge, through efforts of late Miss Ann Sloan. Members and friends drove cars to transport children. Boy scouts made chairs of their hands to carry children to second floor. Members served cookies and hot chocolate.

The club was instrumental in obtaining the first health nurse, it started the library, two of the meeting places were a room in the old K. of P. building and another in old Garrett National building, second floor. Club members served as librarians, two of them being Miss Lizzie Leary and Mrs. H. A. Loraditch. Library was started by Mrs. Benjamin Sincell.

With help of boy scouts and others pine trees were planted on hill back of Carnation plant. Miss Lottie Loar was president at the time, 1929-1938. Flowers were displayed at two banks. Flowers were planted in vacant spots in town, one being the triangle near Oak Street Bridge.

The club helped organize the first cafeteria in Center Street School. Members donated stove, table and chairs and helped in cooking of food. Paid for food and milk. Helped special education group taught by late Mrs. Merne Kloss Ogilvie. Club members also canvassed for March of Dimes. Club first met in homes, later at William James hotel and other places.

Potomac Edison Rate Increase Okayed By PSC

Garrett county customers of Potomac Edison Company, which recently took over the Monongahela Power Company, will have their rates increased very soon, according to spokesmen for PE.

Customers of the Potomac Edison Company in most areas in Maryland can expect a 12 percent increase in their rates.

Garrett County presently enjoys a lower rate than other Maryland PE customers, but since the Maryland Public Service Commission announced Tuesday its decision to allow the company to increase its rates, all electric rates will be going up.

The commission authorized an increase of $5,641,192 in gross operating revenues and an increase of approximately 12 perrent in electric rates. The company had requested $9,000,000 in additional revenues and a 20 percent increase in rates.

The Public Service Commission noted, "Customers of Monongahela Power Company, which will be taken over by Potomac Edison, will be increased to a level that eliminates approximately 50 percent of the rate differential that exists between those customers in Garrett County and the general customers of Potomac Edison. By June 1, 1975, the remaining differential is to be eliminated and all customers of Potomac Edison will come under one rate schedule for each particular class of customer."

PE's rate specialists must submit a new schedule for rates, as the one filed with the increase request was projected on the 20 percent boost. As soon as the new schedule is approved the public will be notified of the effective date for the increase.

Teaching Changes Enliven English Classes In Southern

Changes in teaching methods have enlivened the English classes for both students and teachers of Southern High School with the initiating of mini courses for seniors this year. The fall of 1971 will introduce a mini program for eleventh grade English classes.

For the people who object to experiment in education, traditional English instruction will be maintained should enough students request it and provide enrollment sufficient for such classes.

Twenty-three mini courses were offered to seniors in the 1973 Spring term and each course was scheduled for nine weeks. Thirteen of the courses had sufficient enrollment to require holding one to four classes each. Courses that were developed included Advanced Composition, Appalachia, Cloak and Dagger, Drama, Mythology, Reading for Pleasure, Review Grammar, Science Fiction, Short Story, Speed Reading, Vocational Communications and Vocabulary Expansion.

As a result of student preference and enrollment, thirteen new courses are to be added to the curriculum for the coming school year. The courses are: The Individual, Society and Death; The Bible as Literature, Early American Short Story; Contemporary American Short Story, American Poetry, American Nonfiction; American Drama, Early American Novel, Contemporary American Novel, Term Paper Writing, American Biography, Contemporary Poetry and Song and Humor.

Seven teachers spent one period daily teaching the twenty-eight mini classes this year. They were Judy France, Bernice Ideman, Joan Lambert, Wilda Massi, Mike Posey, Bessie Price and Jean Wolfe. During the 1974-75 school year, eight teachers will be instructing four, eight, or twelve mini classes as three periods daily will be devoted to teaching in these classes. Jane Avery will be the added teacher.

The question may be asked as to why mini classes are so popular? Both teachers and students change classes each nine weeks. There is a much greater variety of subject matter being taught. The courses are geared to the needs of the individual student. If a student is entering the commerical world upon graduation, he is advised to take such subjects as Vocational Communicotions, Vocabulary Expansion, Speed Reading etc. If he plans to go to college, he is advised to take Term Paper, Review Grammar, Advanced Composition, etc. Students are permitted to take eight mini courses in one year. Several are doing just that. This is strong evidence that minis at Southern are a definite success.

Fifteen-Year Old Gary Yoder's Bird Carvings Rank Among the Top in World Championship Competition

Birds in all stages of completion surround Gary as he begins another winged silhouette to be carved, painted and fashioned into life-like collectible for those who value items made with care and precision.

By Carol Canan

Every area has its well-known artists, craftsmen, musicians—all of whom bring fame to their home towns.

Gary Yoder, Grantsville, is no exception. Although he is only 15, his prize-winning wildfowl carvings ranked first in his division and third best in show in the novice class at the World Championship Wildfowl Carving show April 27 and 28 at Salisbury.

Gary had attended the show for the first time just last year, and picked up enough pointers to help him win this year.

Judges at the show included Lem and Steve Ward, world-renowned decoy carvers whose works command top prices in the folk art of decoy collection.

Gary, son of Olen and Viola Yoder, began carving birds four years ago when he was 11. He attended a crafts class at Penn Alps taught by Esther Miller, and enjoyed it so much he kept on with his work on his own. Now he is himself a crafts demonstrator at Penn Alps during the summer seasons, with a cabin all to himself and his birds.

Three days a week Gary is available to explain to interested people the techniques in carving. He is modest to a fault about his skill with knife and paintbrush on a block of wood, but the fine, winning detail of each bird shows that he is nearly a master of the art.

Wildfowl carving is definitely not something one can whip up in an afternoon, or even a couple of afternoons. Countless hours of shaping, whittling, carving, then painting and assembling are necessary before a product is finished.

Certain types of wood especially basswood give greater delicacy to a bird, but Gary usually has to content himself with white pine, which is easiest to get and satisfactory if it has good grain.

A 2 by 4 block is okay for small birds but Gary has not been able to get wood pieces large enough to create lifesize birds. To make an eagle such as the one pictured with this article he must make pieces from small sections of wood and fit them together.

Ideas for birds are "hatched" after studying bird books, before carving begins. Painstaking work with chisel and knife comes next, followed by all the minute details of finish work. Each feather is [illegible] painted in a certain way to give depth. Painting is done with acrylic paints, as oil paint is too shiny.

Glass eyes are put in and holes for leg wires are drilled. The wires are glued in and then lead feet soldered on before the bird is fitted to a driftwood stand. Much of Gary's driftwood comes from Savage River or Youghiogheny [illegible].

Gary has learned a tremendous amount from books and magazines and cites the book he carving is a hobby. He looks at almost the only source of detail is the right one although some day he hopes to borrow some mounted birds to help him get additional depth and detail.

Gary's hobby provides him with enough funds for replacement of materials, a small savings account and, for some birds, the year. Perhaps even more than others, Gary loves fishing, and looks forward with enthusiasm to the days he and his brothers go camping each summer.

It is necessary for Gary to wait for a little help to get through the woods or to streams since he had polio when he was two years old and must wear braces and use crutches. However handicapped is a word which never comes into your mind when thinking of Gary—his intelligence, enthusiasm, skill and attitudes seem to more than compensate for any lack of mobility.

Gary is a [illegible] eleventh grade student at Northern High School, where he is on the honor list. His favorite class is art with biology a close second. English is his best subject although he says he can't spell.

He is also a member of Cherry Glade Mennonite Church and of the church youth group.

Carving is done at a worktable [illegible] wood [illegible] blocks.

EVERY FEATHER SEEMS SEPARATE and agleam with life after Gary completes one of these wood ducks.

Gary is holding pieces of an American eagle together. He has been unable to obtain wood pieces large enough to carve an entire bird, and so must fashion the various pieces and assemble them into a whole.

Bank Awards Five Scholarships To Area Students

[illegible] Garrett National Bank in Oakland announced Monday it was awarding five vocational scholarships to high school graduates in the local banking area. These awards are payable at the vocational school of the student's choice.

The recipients of the awards are Janice Lois Morton, Bruce High School; Jo Ann Alkire, Elk Garden High School; Carson Daniel Price, Piedmont High School; Gary Marie Sebastian, Northern High School, and Janet Marie Penman, of Southern High School. Each winner will also be entitled to a $500.00 interest free loan which may be granted at any time during their length of study. It was revealed by M. S. Brookhart, Vice President & Cashier, that this is the fifth consecutive year that The Garrett National Bank has made these awards available to deserving graduates of local high schools.

Local Student Graduates From Mercersburg

Michael J. Browning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer D. Browning, North Fourth St., Oakland, received his diploma from the Mercersburg Academy at commencement exercises held there June 1. While attending Mercersburg, Michael was a proctor, participated in Varsity wrestling, X Country, the choir and the chorale.

He was also a member of the Board Key to NEWS staff, and the Film [illegible] and explorers club.

Mountain Top Gets Sunshine After Decided Drenching

The Mountain Top got some welcome sunshine the last few days after five days of drenching rain. Rains helped to make May one of the wettest months on record.

Rain showers and thunder storms from Thursday through Sunday drenched the area with 3.8 inches of rain. The thunder storms occurred Friday evening. The clearing trend started late Sunday and has continued since but with some partly cloudy periods. Foggy conditions were noted Monday and Tuesday mornings.

Temperatures averaged 60.1 degrees or 4.8 degrees below the normal with daytime highs contributing mostly to deficiency. Daytime mercury readings averaged 69.7 degrees or eight degrees below normal. The highest was 77 degrees Tuesday. Lows averaged 50.4 degrees or 1.6 below normal with the lowest reading being 44, also Tuesday.

May was one of the wettest on record with 7.52 inches. A few have been wetter, 1968 with 8.58 inches, for example. The heaviest daily rainfall was on the 18th with 2.2 inches, heavy, but likewise not a record which was set in 1921 with 2.65 inches. Three-fourths of an inch of rain or over was registered on six days, including the 18th.

Temperature-wise, May averaged just 1.5 degrees below normal with highs averaging 67.8 degrees, 2.5 degrees below normal, and lows averaging 41.1 degrees, or one degree above normal. For five days the early part of the month temperatures did not go above the 50s. This was offset by a high of 86 degrees the 14th, 83 the 16th, and 81 the 17th. The mercury dipped to or below the freezing mark four days with the lowest being 25 degrees on the 8th. Since then it was down to 32 degrees on the 28th. The day of the big rain, the 18th, the mercury went no lower than 59 degrees.

There was no snow although it has occurred in May in previous years.

Keyser H-P Fire Averted

What could have been a serious fire for the Keyser H-P outlet was averted by a city patrolman Monday morning as he was making his early rounds.

Patrolman Fred Ellifritz discovered that the store was filled with smoke about 4 a.m., when he was checking the front door.

Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze, which was said to have been caused by a short in an electrical box in the rear of the building. Two new mop heads caught fire and were burning. Smoke ejectors were used to clear the building.

Earns Crisco Award

A silver plaque was presented to Barbara by Mrs. Joyce Tennant, home economics instructor. In presenting the award Mrs. Tennant congratulated Barbara on the excellence she had shown in her work.

Barbara has followed the home economics program since entering Southern as a seventh grader. She says she is finding her home-ec background quite helpful as she assumes the roll of full time wife and mother to her husband Gayle, and infant daughter Linda.

Pollution and Recycling, Not New!

By
Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

In Psalms 106 God said the Israelites polluted His land by shedding innocent blood. This reminds us that pollution is not a new problem after all.

One of the many kinds of pollution in America today is broken glass which cuts children's feet, wounds animals, and causes flat tires. With eleven million tons of glass products being made each year, something must be done. Industry proposes to solve the problem by recycling. Broken glass can be made into building panels as strong as concrete. Waste glass also can be put into terrazzo instead of marble. Another use for crushed glass is in glass wool insulation. It can even be used for pavement. Researchers say half a million tons of crushed glass can be used in "glassphalt" annually so that, instead of causing flat tires, it will make excellent roads on which to drive.

This is a picture of what God can do with broken lives. Instead of polluting the earth with sin, they can become useful through the gospel's recycling power. JESUS CHRIST offers an escape from the pollutions of this world.

REMEMBER: IF ANY MAN BE CHRIST, HE IS A NEW CREATURE: OLD THINGS ARE PASSED AWAY; BEHOLD, ALL THINGS ARE BECOME NEW. II Cor. 5:17

Larceny Suspects Jailed In Keyser

Two New Jersey residents picked up in Ridgeley, W. Va. on a routine radar check are being held in the Mineral County jail in Keyser on a detainer warrant issued in Oakland for breaking and entering and grand larceny May 30.

Jan Danseo, about 28, of Fort Lee, N.J., and Susie Tayda, about 22, of Main Street Jersey City, were arrested Saturday in Ridgeley on a speeding charge. The description of their car had previously been sent out to eastern states after the incident in Oakland and other larceny incidents in Midland and Lonaconing, and in Uniontown, Pa.

The warrent from Oakland charges the two with larceny of $235 cash and a $20 lady's wristwatch from Lillie May Lewis, Star Route 1, Oakland, on May 30.

In Midland, a search for a woman and an accomplice was touched off when about $360 and a diamond ring valued at $700 were stolen from homes in those towns May 30. One of the individuals would question an elderly person while the other would enter the home and search the premises, police said.

Bags Black Bear In Canada

Mrs. Gussie Riggleman, native huntress of Green Glade, has the reputation of being as good a hunter as any and better than a lot of men. On her most recent hunt at Mattawa, Canada, she bagged a 200-pound black bear. She gives credit for her success on this hunt to Omar Caurriea, a Canadian guide

On her past hunting trips she has bagged such trophy game animals as moose, Russian wild boar, and Rocky Mountain snow sheep. Here in Maryland she has scored with several buck deer, wild turkeys, ringneck pheasants, rufied grouse, squirrels and rabbits. During one archery season in West Virginia she got a deer with her bow and arrow.

Mrs. Riggleman feels that her hunting skills come in part from her Cherokee ancestors. Mrs. Riggleman also appears successful at fishing, especially trout fishing, and bass in Deep Creek Lake. Years ago she caught 83 bass over three pounds, and caught and released more than a hundred smaller ones. This was before the game commission quit stocking the lake with bass.

Mrs. Riggleman is anticipating this fall and a moose hunting trip that she and her husband, James R. Rigglemon, have planned in north western Ontario, Canada.

Farm prices were down again in mid-April.

SUCCESSFUL PASTOR

Lesson for June 9, 1974

Background Scripture: 1 Thessalonians 2, 3.
Devotional Reading: Ezekiel 34:11-16.

One day many years ago these words came into my mind:

I am called—
Not to be successful in my ministry
But to be faithful in my witness
That will be success enough.

Rev. Althouse

I copied on a card these words that seemed to have come from the depths of my own heart. That card has been on my desk for more than a decade.

Though there is nothing particularly profound about those words, the little card and its contents have often spoken deeply to my needs as a pastor. The words remind me of basic truths I am ever tempted to forget. As a minister, as a pastor, I need to be reminded of the specific nature of my "call" from God.

In the face of opposition

I am particularly in need of this when my efforts to declare the gospel are surrounded with great opposition. It is one thing to preach to a congregation that is receptive to the gospel and there is no opposition in the community. It is something else to do this when our witness is likely to cost us something.

Writing to the church at Thessalonica, Paul reminded the congregation of the courage that he and his associates displayed when, coming fresh from their tragic and violent experiences in Philippi, they came to Thessalonica and began their work there. What had happened at Philippi would have been enough to scare off most men, but Paul and his associate bravely began their work despite great opposition, particularly from the gentiles.

To please God, not men

Quite apart from our innate fear of danger and injury, there is also the motivation of wanting to please people. It is natural for us to want to please people and it is disagreeable to have to displease them. But we need to remember that our purpose on earth is not, as Paul put it, "to please men, but to please God . . ." (2:4)

Although most of us know that, many of us still operate as if the pastor's success is to be measured in terms of the number of people he can please. Thus the pastor is tempted to compromise his call rather than sacrifice his popularity. And often the activities that guarantee popularity are not pleasing to God.

So, the pastor knows that he has a task of speaking for God to his people and that often what he has to say is not to their liking. He knows that he may be rejected. Happy is the pastor who understands that success in the ministry is not a matter of pleasing men, but of pleasing God through our faithful witness.

The Invisible Government

"On the west side of Park Avenue at 68th street in New York City sit two handsome buildings across the way from each other. One is the Soviet Embassy to the United Nations . . . Directly opposite on the southwest corner is the Council of Foreign Relations (C.F.R.) . . ."

—Christian Science Monitor of September 1, 1961

"Although the formal membership in the C.F.R. is composed of close to 1500 of the most elite names in the fields of government, labor, business, finance, communications, the foundations, and the academy . . ." ". . . and despite the fact that it has staffed almost every key position in every administration since those of F.D.R., it is doubtful that one American in a thousand so much as recognizes the Council's name . . .".

—None Dare Call It Conspiracy

The following are (or were at one time) members of the C.F.R.: Henry Kissinger, Richard Nixon and over 100 appointees in his administration; Nelson, Laurence and John D. Rockefeller; John, Robert and Edward Kennedy; John Lindsay, Hubert Humphrey. These are only a few.

—None Dare Call It Conspiracy

The C.F.R. is represented in the New York Times, Los Angeles Times and Washington Post to mention a few in the newspaper field. There are C.F.R. members in NBC, CBS, Time, Newsweek and many of the major book publishing firms including McGraw-Hill, Simon and Schuster, and Harper Bros. Among the major corporations that have men in the C.F.R. are Standard Oil, IBM, Zerox, Eastman Kodak, Pan American, Firestone, U.S. Steel, General Electric and AT & T. The C.F.R. has members in key positions in the Ford, Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations and many other institutes.

—None Dare Call It Conspiracy

"The goal of the C.F.R. is simply TO ABOLISH THE UNITED STATES WITH ITS CONSTITUTIONAL GUARANTEES OF LIBERTY' (Emphasis added).

—None Dare Call It Conspiracy

So what? What can you, the toiling taxpayer, do? Once any sizable minority of the American people becomes aware of the C.F.R. and its plans, the decades of planning and work by the C.F.R. can be destroyed in an amazingly short time. Our job is largely a matter of getting others to realize that they are being conned. But first, you must know the facts. Read None Dare Call It Conspircay available at your local drug stores. Civic Club Has Final Meeting

The final meeting of the season for the Civic Club of Oakland was held at Point View Inn on May 28 with new officers being installed by Mrs. Helen Baumgartner, past president of the Oakland club and Western District.

Installed were Mrs. James Panther, first vice president; and Mrs. Ann Englander, second vice-president. Mrs. James Riley was presented with the president's pin.

Mrs. Paul Calderwood, retiring president of the Western District, announced that fifty-year members were being honored this year by the general federation of Women's clubs. The western district had five and four of them are from the Oakland club. This number was narrowed by one since Mrs. Sarah Naylor, recently deceased, was one of those named, the list being made prior to her death.

To be honored are Mrs. Lulu Dawson, Mrs. Patience Grant and Mrs. Ruth Naylor.

Mary McRobie gave a report of the Western District meeting in Cumberland May 22, at which she represented the local club. Mrs. McRobie read the club's annual report at the district meeting which Margaret Robway was given special credit for recruiting eleven of twenty new members.

Mrs. Riley declared that items were needed for the garage sale to be held July 5 and 6. Other projects mentioned were a booth at the county fair, antique show and sale at the Autumn Glory, and the Charity Ball, to be held in October.

Mrs. Gayle Prentice presented Mrs. Riley with a framed portrait she had done as a demonstration at the last meeting.

The committee in charge of arrangements included Mrs. Twila Sprague, Mrs. Lewis Cornish, Mrs. Helen Baumgartner, Mrs. Ruth Naylor, Miss Isabel Hamill, Mrs. Betty Renninger, and Mrs. Ralph Pritts, Sr.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the John O. Durst Funeral Home, Rev. James F. Remley, the pallbearers, those who sent flowers and food, and all the friends and relatives who helped in many ways following the death of our father and brother, Robert C. Bray.

Social Security Amounts Given For Three Counties

Social Security to residents of Allegany and Garrett Counties in Maryland and Mineral County in West Virginia, totaled $2,792,500 per month at the end of 1973, James L. Robertson, Social Security District Manager in Cumberland, reported.

This figure, Robertson said, does not include data on either the Black Lung Benefits or the new Supplemental Security Income Programs.

Approximately 2,000 Miners or widows of miners, living in the three Counties, are currently receiving Black Lung payments under the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act each month. This represents a total monthly payment of about $360,000.

Robertson said that since the Black Lung Program started in December 1969, approximately $15 million dollars have been received by families living in the three-County area.

By Bessie Price, chairman, English Department, Southern High School.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 98 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD. JUNE 13, 1974 | PER COPY 15c | NUMBER 15

Fly the Flag . . .

Nearly two centuries ago, on June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the official United States flag. Tomorrow, Flag Day, all Americans can appropriately celebrate the anniversary of that historic event by flying the flag.

General George Washington explained the symbolism of the Stars and Stripes in these words: "We take the star from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

In 1818 the flag after lacking uniformity, reverted back to 13 stripes representing the original colonies, and it was decided that each new state would be represented by a star on the union of the flag.

Each time we recite the Pledge of Allegiance we do so to two things: a symbol, "The Flag," and what that symbol stands for, "The Republic."

This is perhaps unique in the world. Elsewhere citizens swear loyalty to a country. An American, however, swears his loyalty to a nation with a particular form of government; a Republic, with "liberty and justice for all." That form of government, endedded in our Constitution, is now the oldest on earth. And we can show that pride in this priceless heritage by pulling that flag out of the closet on Friday and flying it proudly.

Tax Rate Will Remain $2.73 Per $100 Value

Expenditures Estimated At $4,635,822.64; Income To Reach $5,444,678

For the fourth year in a row, Garrett County Commissioners kept the $2.73 tax rate on each $100 of assessed valuation, it was announced on Tuesday.

The Commissioners had spent the past several weeks concentrating on various proposed budgets of the various county agencies. The commissioners said they were able to hold the tax rate at the same level after nine weeks of budget work sessions with each county agency.

Maintaining of the tax rate over the past four years is attributed to a better economic condition in the county which produces more income tax, increased amounts of federal revenue sharing money and utilization of available state and federal money.

Wayne Hamilton, commissioner chairman, said the budget for fiscal 1975 provides enough money to the various county agencies to maintain all programs and provide needed and desirable services to county residents.

Assessable basis for the year was estimated at $121,151,099 some $10 million greater than last year. Total expenditures are expected to reach $4,635,822.64, with estimated receipts totaling $5,444,678. A substantial amount was $150,000 in income tax payments.

The itemized levy for the new year will be published in next week's issue of The Republican.

The amount allotted for County Roads total $2,253,368. A twenty percent reduction in the welfare levy was noted. Amount levied this year totals $91,892, with $16,924 of that amount to be used for administration of the food stamp program.

Finalization of the Board of Education budget came on Monday during the commissioners' regular meeting. Further details as to categorical allocation will be worked out by the school board staff members, to be approved by the school board and adopted by the commissioners before June 30 deadline, Hamilton said. Dr. Wm. Buser, superintendent of Schools, pointed out that using part of a $200,000 reserve of the School Board would cause problems with cash flow from money expected from state and federal sources that may be delayed.

The commissioners assured the school board that they would be able to keep in operation with the $52,000 reserve still held by the school board.

The commissioners funded the school board $1,785,727, and an additional $30,000 for capital expense last year. For fiscal 1975 the commissioners are increasing the local share by $300,000. Of that amount $200,000 is to be used for the teachers' negotiated package including salary increases and $100,000 for school board operating and maintenance expenses for a total local contribution of $1,905,727 for next fiscal year, Mr. Hamilton pointed out. An additional $30,000 will again be allocated for capital outlay budget for the school board by the commissioners.

Mr. Hamilton said, "The increase of $300,000 will be sufficient to fund the negotiated

What is Congress doing about legislation to increase the benefits for disabled veterans and their dependents?

The measure, which would provide a $567 million cost-of-living increase in benefits to 2.2 million veterans with service connected disabilities, passed Congress several weeks ago.

Under the bill benefits were raised 15 per cent for veterans rated as 10 per cent to 50 per cent disabled, for veterans with 50 percent to 100 per cent disability the benefits were increased 18 per cent. In addition, dependency allowances were raised 15 per cent for veterans receiving benefits and who are 50 per cent or more disabled. Saving Maryland's Farms

Maryland's farmland, some of the best in the country, is disappearing rapidly. We have lost 17 per cent of it in the last ten years.

One of the reasons is that federal tax laws affecting farmland and other open space actually provide an incentive for development of the land for other uses. Land is valued for estate tax purposes according to its worth as a possible shopping center or industrial park site.

This means that heirs who wish to continue farming often are unable to do so. Instead they must sell the land to pay taxes based on its speculative value.

With two other members of the Maryland Congressional delegation — Reps. Goodloe Byron and Marjorie Holt — I am attempting to bring about a change in federal estate tax laws so that farmland may pass to heirs without the burden of crushing estate tax bills that might require the land to be sold.

I have introduced a bill in the Senate that would follow the example of many state and local governments by allowing farmland to be assessed according to its value as farmland as long as it continues to be used in that manner. Otherwise, the federal government will continue to help speculators drive the family farm out of business, and we all will suffer from the loss of farmland and open space.

To qualify for the special tax treatment provided in the bill, inheritors of farms must continue to use the land for farming or as open space. Otherwise, it becomes subject to a higher tax. The bill allows the government to recapture taxes should the land be sold later at a value above its assessed value as farmland, to prevent speculators from taking advantage of a measure, intended to protect lands from development.

The bill also would protect sites listed in the National Register of Historic Places by providing a similar mechanism to relieve heirs of crushing inheritance taxes based on a speculative development value. The special tax treatment would continue as long as the site continues to meet the standards for remaining on the National Register.

Reps. Byron and Holt will introduce legislation identical to mine in the House. Our proposal has won the endorsement of the Maryland Farm Bureau, the Maryland Environmental Trust and the Maryland Historical Trust. We are hopeful of winning Congressional action before the summer recess.

ROCKEFELLER AIDS REDS

A division of the Pullman Company is building a 2-billion dollar truck plant near the Kama River in the U.S.S.R. It is to be the largest producer of trucks in the world — putting out 150,000 heavy trucks and heavy engines per year. This is more than the combined output of such trucks by all American manufacturers.

The Soviets are putting up 10% of the cash, while David Rockefeller's Chase-Manhattan Bank and the Export-Import Bank will each put up 45%. The Ex-Im Bank is loaning this inflationary credit to the U.S.S.R. at an incredible 6% interest rate with a repayment period of 12 years and a grace period of 4½ years. Try to get that kind of deal with your local bank for a home loan. And guess what happens if (more accurately, when) the Comrades don't pay? Do we foreclose and repossess the factory? . . . Do we grow bananas in Minnesota?

But, you say, surely David, the shrewdest and most powerful banker in the world, wouldn't risk his money unless he were sure of repayment. You're right, David is sure of repayment. Chase's loan is guaranteed by the U. S. taxpayer through government agencies like the Foreign Credit Insurance Association.

According to U. S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT March 25, 1974, "Chase experts see Kama River as a 'billion dollar beginning' for U. S. suppliers". Since then, Chase has given the comrades another loan of 36 million dollars, guaranteed by you, for the construction of an international trade center in Moscow. For more details, see AMERICAN OPINION MAGAZINE, May, 1974.

1. Why is Rockefeller, the world's greatest capitalist, giving aid and comfort to the worst enemy of Capitalism?

2. Nixon was elected because he promised to balance the budget, not establish wage and price controls; cut welfare, not push for a guaranteed annual income; slash government spending, not multiply it; build our defenses, not continue to unilaterally disarm us; stop aid and trade with our Communist enemies, not multiply it. Why?

3. Why can't all the economic "experts" in the administration solve the inflation problem? There is no mystery about how to halt an inflation. The cure is for government to stop increasing the money supply. Period.

Rockefeller and Kissinger and formerly Richard Nixon are members of a "private organization" headquartered in N. Y. City. (see the ad, The Invisible Government in last week's issue) It is called the COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS, and its goal is simply "To abolish the United States with its Constitutional guarantees of liberty." The C.F.R. openly advocates "Building a new International Order [which] must be responsive to world aspirations for peace, [and] for social and economic change . . . an international order [code word for world government] . . . including states labelling themselves as 'socialist' [Communist]."

Perhaps it's time to get acquainted with the bank which invites your business . . . welcomes it regardless of size. Stop in and see "The Bank With An Eye To Your Future."

Attention
GNB Customers:

Turn In Your Pennies!

Of the 62 billion pennies produced in the past 15 years, nearly half are hiding in dresser drawers, piggy banks, pickle jars, etc. They are unwanted, unused and unappreciated. And, because of the large mintage, they will never be worth much to collectors. Still the Bureau of the Mint must produce 35 million pennies each day just to meet the present demands.

If just 15 billion pennies were put back into circulation, the Mint wouldn't have to make pennies for two years. That would represent a saving of $150,000,000.00.

ton Mrs. George Hanst, Charles Briner, Rev. Shelby Walthall and the late Dr. E. I. Baumgartner.

Mrs. Ann Englander mentioned members of the community who have served on the playhouse committee sewing costumes, gathering properties, and making the area hospitable for the actors and actresses.

The sometimes difficult history of the playhouse was remembered through its original opening at the Arden Boat House, McHenry, the fire in 1962 which completely destroyed the barn and all the playhouse properties, the temporary location in Dennett Road School, and then the conversion of the Blue Barn on Beekman's peninsula into the present location.

Charles Briner made a presentation of a memorial gift to Professor Yell at the conclusion of the dinner. He noted that the Playhouse is one of the few true Straw Hat summer stock theaters still operating in America, dependent upon the same cast during the entire season to rehearse and stage a new play each week.

Professor Yell had been a summer resident in Garrett County for ten years when he conceived the idea of a summer playhouse. Working with an original board of directors consisting of Mrs. Homer Bennett, Irvin Eeld, Max Jarboe, George Littman, Edward Smouse, Earl Zepp, Mrs. Glen Randol, and Clinton Englander, he made final plans during the summer of 1954 for the opening of the playhouse on July 5 the following year.

Professor and Mrs. Yell maintain a summer home at Hemlock Hollow in Pleasant Valley.

three way calling, which will be outlined in a letter to affected customers in the near future.

Customers will now have available the Touchtone (pushbutton) phone.

Work on the new center was originated in December 1972, when the engineering and planning began. An order for necessary equipment was placed in the spring of 1973, and installation of equipment began in December 1973.

Thayerville was chosen for the new system since the area had outgrown the temporary facilities placed in use in 1969, and since it is projected to be one of the major growth centers in western Maryland. The new facility has a growth capacity of up to 6,000 customers.

Computer parts were crated from Western Electric Centers in Columbus, Ohio, Oklahoma City, and others.

The center's heart is a maintenance machine with teletype which monitors everything happening on all circuits. An alarm is set off immediately in event of problems in the telephone circuits, or in case of power failure or fire. The teletype is monitored day and night at the Technical Assistance Center in Baltimore. The teletype also prints out information on the problem at the center for speedy correction.

The magnetized computers for the telephone lines make note of any problems and automatically re-route calls until repairs are made.

In addition to all the computer equipment, large batteries, part of every telephone center, are in the new building to serve as a back-up power supply. Their function is to provide electricity for the center during the 45 seconds it takes the diesel-operated generator to come on in case of power failure, or to provide electricity for up to four hours in case the diesel fails.

Many types of alarms serve as warnings in the event of equipment failures in the building, including smoke, humidity, water, extreme heat, cold, major cable breaks, etc.

The two trailers presently serving the call load in the Thayerville area will now be moved elsewhere for use.
